WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy appears almost certain to hit the campaign trail this fall with a drive aimed at breaking up the coalition bent on scuttling his program in Congress.

Doctors Book Parley In Medicare Dispute

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP)—Saskatchewan's striking doctors were reported softening their opposition to the provincial government's compulsory medical care plan today as they prepared to put their case before the ruling Socialist party's convention.

Dr. H. D. Dalgleish, president of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons, was to spell out the doctors' views before the annual convention of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation (CCF).

His statement was scheduled late today.

Dalgleish declined to comment on what he would say, but he observed to newsmen that "there are other ways of instituting (medical care) insurance that have never been seriously considered by both parties."

It was learned Tuesday night that Dalgleish has been exchanging letters on the dispute with provincial Premier Woodrow Lloyd. Neither Dalgleish nor Lloyd would disclose what the letters said, but a senior official of the doctors' college attached great importance to the exchange.

A college spokesman said the medical organization had softened its position since the government put the medicare plan into effect July 1, touching off the doctors' strike.

He added, however, that the college still wants suspension of the plan, which provides prepaid compulsory medical care insurance financed by personal assessments and taxes. All citizens in the province are covered by the plan with the government setting the doctors' fees.

Exemption For Amish Is Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Amish sect and other religious groups would be exempted from the system under an amendment tacked onto a public welfare bill.

The bill and the amendment, passed by the Senate Tuesday, are headed for a joint House-Senate Conference Committee.

The amendment would exempt the Amish from paying Social Security benefits.

The sect opposes Social Security on grounds that the bible requires each household to provide for its own.

"These people ask no dole," said Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio. "All they ask is to be let alone."

The amendment would permit the secretary of welfare to grant exemptions to Amish or similar religious sects if they filed affidavits that the Social Security System violated their religious tenets and that her elderly would not become public charges.

The U. S. Internal Revenue Service recently seized three plow horses from Mrs. and Mrs. Valentine Y. Byler of New Wilmington, Pa., and filed liens on 76 other Amish accounts for failure to pay Social Security taxes. The Bylers are suing for compensation and exemption from future Social Security taxes.

31 Republicans and 21 Democrats—17 of them Southerners—against the Kennedy proposal. It got the support of 43 Democrats and five Republicans.

Because he had tabbed this as the top issue in this year's elections, Kennedy obviously was more angered by the Senate action than previous defeats by a House coalition which killed his tight-controls farm bill and his plan to set up a department of urban affairs.

The President read to reporters at the White House a statement in which he said rejection of his health care plan was "a most serious defeat for every American family."

He added significantly: "We have to decide in the congressional election whether we want to stand still or support this legislation for the benefit of the people."

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota translated this to mean that Kennedy personally will carry the fight to the people.

"This will become the major issue of the 1962 campaign and I expect the President will redouble his efforts for it," Humphrey said.

Chairman John M. Bailey of the Democratic National Committee accused the Republicans of "reckless partisan obstruction."

He said in a statement: "This obstruction will be an important issue in this fall's campaign. The Republicans have shown clearly that they want this country to stop. President Kennedy and the Democrats want it to go."

An hour after the Senate vote, Kennedy went before television cameras and radio microphones to read a statement. He said the defeat had dealt a setback to 17 million Americans over 65, and was a blow to children of older persons who have to educate their families and help their parents meet medical expenses.

Then he added: "I think the American people are going to make a decision in November as to whether they want this bill, and similar bills, to be passed, or whether they want it to be defeated. Nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats joined with them to give us today's setback."

"We have to decide, the United States, in 1962, in November, in the congressional elections, whether we want to stand still or whether we want to support this kind of legislation for the benefit of the people."

"You are going to have a chance to make that judgment. With your support in November, this will pass in 1963."

Also prompt in its comment was the American Medical Association. Its president, Dr. George M. Fister, said in Chicago:

"It would have been inequitable to force wage earners to pay substantially higher payroll taxes to provide health care for millions who are able to take care of themselves."

"The American Medical Association will continue its efforts to further implement and strengthen the Kerr-Mills law (which offers federal funds to states to help cover medical care for the aged under certain circumstances) and all voluntary programs to help meet health needs of the aged."

Solons Pass New Gas Rate Measure

A compromise ordinance on a new rate scheduled proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. was passed last night by City Council.

The initial legislative action was taken following long periods of deliberation which started in May when Ohio Fuel first presented the new rate hike proposal to Council. The next step will be whether or not gas company officials in Columbus accept the compromised measure which gained the city fathers' approval yesterday.

The approved ordinance is close to the one proposed by Council on June 5 which amounted to a counter rate schedule in regard to the one originally presented by Ohio Fuel.

Councilman Dudley Carpenter, devoting extensive study on the matter along with his committee, said the accepted measure appears to be a fair and equitable compromise. The ordinance was passed on a suspension of rules and carried by a 6-0 vote. Councilman Robert Smith was absent.

Once Around Roundtown

THESE frisky Circleville squirrels are up to their old tricks again.

One bushy tail in particular caused heaps of excitement at about 6 a. m. today. . . a minor explosion and loss of power at Berger Hospital brought firemen, policemen and sheriff's deputies running.

Bewildered firemen and lawmen at first were at a loss in determining the explosion, attested to by several residents of the hospital neighborhood. . .

However, electrician Ronald Nau came up with a sound explanation when he found a dead squirrel near one of the electrical poles in rear of the hospital. . . It was surmised that the playful animal had touched two wires, causing a short circuit and the ensuing boom and loss of power. . .

A standby generator was quickly put into operation at the hospital. . . Full power was restored a short time later. . . The only damage was to a circuit breaker. . .

According to hospital officials, squirrels have caused similar incidents there before.

A SAFECRACKER'S dream come true. . . Construction workers at the First National Bank site today were using an airhammer to dismantle the old vault. There was an armed guard there to protect them. . . the police, no less. . . and an interested audience.

CUT your finger? Just call the Pickaway County Sheriff. . . The County Commissioners Monday authorized the purchase of first aid kits to be carried in each of the sheriff's department cruisers. The kits contain band aids, gauze bandages, tape, spirits of ammonia, antiseptic cream and everything needed for minor first aid treatment.

Both Drivers Blamed In Highway Crash

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—An Ohio trucker has been declared negligent in a 1960 Kentucky traffic accident in which Mrs. Arthur E. Sands of Oak Ridge, Tenn., was seriously injured. But a U.S. District Court jury here also ruled Tuesday that Mrs. Sands' husband, whose car collided with a truck driven by Delbert Lee Hurley of Hamilton, Ohio, was also partly to blame.

The jury awarded Mrs. Sands $5,000 from Hurley's employer, Roadway Express Co., but said she must pay half of that amount back to the trucking firm because of her husband's negligence. The woman had sought damages totaling $119,500.

Watters Lists Plans To Join Police Staff

Deputy Sheriff Dixie Watters, submitted his resignation as a county employee to Sheriff Walton W. Spangler yesterday.

Watters, a deputy since Sheriff Spangler took office in January 1961, said today his reasons for leaving the department were personal and didn't care to make any comments.

However, Watters is staying in the law enforcement field. Yesterday he accepted a position on the city police force. He will fill a vacancy left by the resignation of city patrolman Gerald Goldsberry earlier this week.

Deputy Watters was formerly employed by the Circleville Police Department as a special officer prior to his serving as deputy sheriff. He will once again assume that position. . . .

HIS resignation will be effective 5 p. m. Saturday. Sheriff Spangler said today no one has been hired to fill the vacancy although several men have showed interest in the position.

Watters is married and the father of two children. He resides with his wife, Rosemary, and family at 818 S. Court St.

Soblen Plea Is Headed for Higher Court

LONDON (AP)—Three high court justices refused today Dr. Robert Soblen's plea to be set free on British soil, but gave him permission to appeal the decision.

Court observers estimated the appeal—even if denied—would delay Soblen's deportation to the United States for perhaps six weeks. They estimated it would take that long to complete the process in the court of appeal.

If he loses the appeal, Dr. Soblen still would have pending a request to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. The Home Office has declined to give any inkling of its attitude toward this request, but it is thought unlikely it will be granted.

The high court turned down Soblen's plea to free from him detention by the Home Office under a writ of habeas corpus.

The court upheld the government contention that the 62-year-old fugitive, who fled from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, is an alien in transit who had been allowed to pause in Britain only long enough to recover from the stab wounds he inflicted on himself while en route from Israel to America.

Soblen, who jumped $100,000 bail when he fled from New York to Israel last month, is fighting for permission to remain in Britain or to go on to refuge in some other country.

Celebrezze To Review His New Department

CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, nominated by President Kennedy to be secretary of health, education and welfare, says he wants to review the whole structure of the department "to see if consolidations are possible for economic reasons and greater efficiency."

"One of my aims will be to make the people around me aware that they've got to be careful how they spend the taxpayers' money," he said Tuesday night after returning from a trip to the White House.

JFK Tells Soviets GIs Stay in Berlin

Clay Says Khrush May Risk War

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

President Kennedy's personal representative to Berlin feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be using that perennial crisis to sow fears and differences among the Western Allies and impede European progress toward political unity.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who commanded the 1948-49 operation that broke the Berlin blockade, says he notes substantial improvement in West Berlin's situation at the moment and adds he sees no immediate change in prospect.

But he cautions Khrushchev conceivably might risk war over the city, not because he wants free West Berlin that badly, but because "he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe."

Clay, to many Germans a symbol of a U.S. promise not to abandon West Berlin to communism, advanced his views in an exclusive and unusually illuminating interview in New York with The Associated Press, the first half of which follows in question and answer form. The second half of the interview will be presented Thursday.

Q. You are getting to be quite a commuter to Berlin aren't you, General?

A. Well I hope I'll be lengthening the time between visits, because I think they are in a status quo there now. It could last for many, many months.

Q. Why?

A. Well in the first place the morale of the people in Berlin has withstood the wall and there is not much that the Communists can do to frighten Berlin short of those measures that would undoubtedly lead to massive counter measures. The pin-pricks which they might exert against the Allies carried great risk. And they proved to be a failure in disturbing the Berliners. So I don't see what they have to gain out taking that risk.

Q. Will your mission continue for the duration of the Berlin crisis?

A. I don't think we know. The President has asked me to continue as an advisor and obviously there is very little advice to give as long as we stay in the position of status quo. As far as Berlin is concerned there has been a substantial improvement.

Q. In what way?

A. Well the morale of the people has returned to normal and in fact I think they are probably more determined than ever to hold out. The economy of the city has recovered from the initial shock and looks like it is on the move again.

Q. But the basic situation as between the West and the Russians?

A. It remains unchanged and I don't see any immediate change in prospect.

Q. What do you suppose was behind Khrushchev's recent proposal, which we rejected, that Western troops in Berlin be replaced by Norwegian-Danish or Belgian-Dutch plus Czech-Polish forces?

A. I think Mr. Khrushchev would like very much to get the Allies out of West Berlin. The presence of the Allied troops there and the rapid development of the city has of course made it a veritable citadel of freedom behind the Iron Curtain which he would like to destroy.

Now this proposal to replace the Allies with the troops of other nations, of course, doesn't make very much sense. We are in Berlin as a result of victory in war. Many of these nations were not even in the war. There is no right to garrison Berlin per se. The people of West Berlin cannot be made to accept garrisons from any and all countries.

We have added to that a firm commitment to the people of West Berlin that as long as they want our troops there they will be here. We couldn't give up on that commitment under any circumstances.

Huge Balloon Put in Space

Sphere Carves Path For Advanced 'Echo'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)

—The largest space vehicle ever sent aloft — a balloon which inflated to the height of a 13-story building — was rocketed 950 miles above the Atlantic Ocean today as a forerunner of an advanced Echo communications satellite.

The gleaming silvery sphere, dubbed "Big Shot," provided a brief but spectacular show for ground observers in the Cape Canaveral area as it separated from the Thor booster, expanded to its full 135-foot diameter, and drifted across the predawn sky. It was visible for nearly 10 minutes before becoming obscured by haze and cloud.

Clouds apparently confined observation of the big ball to the Cape area. Clear skies would have permitted observation of the balloon throughout much of the eastern United States.

Today's shot was to determine whether the balloon would expand and hold its form after being sent aloft. There were no communications tests.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced success of the mission, which paves the way for launching a similar balloon into orbit later this year as the Echo II experimental communications satellite.

After rising to 950 miles the balloon plunged back and burned up as intended in the earth's atmosphere. Death of the sphere occurred about 25 minutes after the 4:30 a.m. launching, some 600 miles south of the Cape.

"Big Shot" is easily the largest package ever sent into space. However, many U.S. satellites have weighed much more than its 510 pounds.

Sonic Booms To Be Heard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans in a 40-mile corridor between Cincinnati and Cleveland who think they are hearing thunder tonight through Friday night may be hearing sonic booms, instead.

The booms, if any, will be coming from two B-58 Hustler bombers on a training mission, the Air Force announced today, but they will be flying at extremely high altitudes to minimize the shock waves of what the Air Force prefers to call the "sound of freedom."

The Air Force announcement said the craft will be flying at about twice the speed of sound for a number of simulated bombing runs. They are Strategic Air Command craft based at Bunker Air Force Base in Indiana.

The booms may be heard between 8 and 11 p.m., EST, the Air Force warned.

Red Buzzing Viewed As Isolated Incident

BERLIN (AP)—Western officials regard the buzzing of an American plane by a Russian jet Tuesday as an isolated incident, informed sources said today.

The officials reportedly could find no evidence that the Soviets planned to resume their harassment of Western planes of last winter. Traffic in the air corridors was normal today.

The United States protested to Soviet officials against the incident.

President Firm On U.S. Policy

Russian Ambassador Is Given Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP)—In words destined for Premier Khrushchev, President Kennedy is reported to have told the Soviet ambassador that the Soviet Union's demand for removal of U.S. troops from West Berlin is totally unacceptable.

Kennedy met with Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin for an hour Tuesday night in his office at the White House. They also discussed Laos, disarmament and the problem of a ban on nuclear tests.

Dobrynin said as he climbed into his limousine to return to his embassy, "It would be improper for me to comment."

Kennedy intervened personally in U.S.-Soviet talks on the Berlin situation in the evident hope of overcoming any lingering belief in Moscow that the troops issue may be negotiable or that the United States would yet yield to threats and pressures and accept some kind of compromise for West Berlin's military protection.

The President's move came two days before Secretary of State Dean Rusk leaves for Geneva where he plans to talk over the East-West Berlin stalemate with A. Gromyko. The occasion for their gathering in Geneva will be the signing of accords on the neutralization of Laos.

The effect of Kennedy's action is to reinforce Rusk's position at a crucial stage of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

The talks which began last September are deadlocked. There is little hope in official quarters that the deadlock can be broken in the predictable future. There is some lingering hope that if Khrushchev fully understands U.S. determination in support of West Berlin he may be willing to reach some agreement on what the diplomats call a "modus vivendi"—a way of living with the situation without stirring up major crises periodically.

It was authoritatively reported that Kennedy's main concern in the unusual session with Dobrynin was to emphasize personally the importance he attaches to the U.S. position that the Soviet demand for withdrawal of U.S., British and French troops from West Berlin is nonnegotiable.

Laos Peace Treaty OK'd

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laos Conference approved today the final version of a peace and neutrality treaty for the jungle kingdom.

In a restricted session the chief delegates of the 14-month-old talks breezed through the final report of the drafting committee.

This included the texts of an international treaty and a declaration of neutrality by the coalition Laotian government of national unity, headed by neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The conference will meet again for a full session Sunday to record its agreement in the last official act of the meeting, but this is a pure formality. The ceremony of signature by the foreign ministers was set for next Monday.

4 U.S. Fliers Found Alive after Crash

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—All four U.S. Air Force crewmen aboard a two-engine transport that crashed Sunday were found alive late today.

A rescue helicopter was unable to land at the crash site in the mountainous terrain 150 miles northeast of here. But a sling lift was lowered, on which two of the survivors were lifted to a hovering craft and taken to a field hospital at the coastal town of Nha Trang.

One of the other two survivors apparently had a broken leg, and could not use a sling. The fourth survivor stayed on the ground with his companion, and medical personnel were lowered.

Solons Pass New Gas Rate Measure

A compromise ordinance on a new rate scheduled proposed by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. was passed last night by City Council.

The initial legislative action was taken following long periods of deliberation which started in May when Ohio Fuel first presented the new rate hike proposal to Council. The next step will be whether or not gas company officials in Columbus accept the compromised measure which gained the city fathers' approval yesterday.

The approved ordinance is close to the one proposed by Council on June 5 which amounted to a counter rate schedule in regard to the one originally presented by Ohio Fuel.

Councilman Dudley Carpenter, devoting extensive study on the matter along with his committee, said the accepted measure appears to be a fair and equitable compromise. The ordinance was passed on a suspension of rules and carried by a 6-0 vote. Councilman Robert Smith was absent.

THE ordinance was presented by Douglas Cotterman, Ohio Fuel company manager here. He plans to carry a copy of the measure to the company's Columbus office today for acceptance or rejection.

According to Carpenter, the rate increase will have the most effect on industrial and some commercial users. He said only a small percentage of residential consumers will be touched by the rate hike.

The contract, as proposed by last night's ordinance, will cover a period of four years Council remained in accord with a $2.50 minimum rate.

The Gas Company's old rate expired in May of this year. However, it will remain in effect until a new schedule is made operational.

Here is the schedule as provided by last night's ordinance: 25 cents per 100 cubic feet for the first 1,100 cubic feet; 7 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 3,900 cubic feet; 7 1/2 cents per 100 cubic feet for the next 95,000 cubic feet; and 6 cents per 100 cubic feet for all in excess of 100,000 cubic feet.

Warhorse's Grave To Be Protected

TIPP CITY, Ohio (AP)—An old soldier's love for his horse has caused Uncle Sam to take one step sideways in his march of progress.

The mount's grave, smack dab in the middle of a new loading dock area at the local post office, won't be disturbed.

Here's why: Col. D. M. Rouzer, Union Cavalry officer in the Civil War, rode his horse from the battlefield and decided to keep him for his own.

Rouzer and his wife kept the mount in their yard and, when the animal died, they laid him to rest in the northwest corner of the yard.

Rouzer's will stipulated that if the property were ever sold, "No stable, barn, woodshed or other building shall ever cover the grave."

The government purchased the property in 1936 for a post office site, but until an expansion plan was undertaken, the grave was not a problem. Officials recently reviewed the colonel's will, and Tuesday, this announcement came from Assistant Postmaster William Lehart:

"The grave will be left in grass and walled off."

Local residents said they have not been able to learn the name or get a description of the horse.

Soblen Plea Is Headed for Higher Court

LONDON (AP)—Three high court justices refused today Dr. Robert Soblen's plea to be set free on British soil, but gave him permission to appeal the decision.

Court observers estimated the appeal—even if denied—would delay Soblen's deportation to the United States for perhaps six weeks. They estimated it would take that long to complete the process in the court of appeal.

If he loses the appeal, Dr. Soblen still would have pending a request to the Home Office for asylum as a political refugee. The Home Office has declined to give any inkling of its attitude toward this request, but it is thought unlikely it will be granted.

The high court turned down Soblen's plea to free him from detention by the Home Office under a writ of habeas corpus.

The court upheld the government contention that the 62-year-old fugitive, who fled from a life sentence in the United States as a Soviet spy, is an alien in transit who had been allowed to pause in Britain only long enough to recover from the stab wounds he inflicted on himself while en route from Israel to America.

Soblen, who jumped $100,000 bail when he fled from New York to Israel last month, is fighting for permission to remain in Britain or to go on to refuge in some other country.

Celebrezze To Review His New Department
CLEVELAND (AP)—Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, nominated by President Kennedy to be secretary of health, education and welfare, says he wants to review the whole structure of the department "to see if consolidations are possible for economic reasons and greater efficiency."

"One of my aims will be to make the people around me aware that they've got to be careful how they spend the taxpayers' money," he said Tuesday night after returning from a trip to the White House.

JFK Tells Soviets GIs Stay in Berlin

Clay Says Khrush May Risk War

By SAUL PETT
Associated Press Writer

President Kennedy's personal representative to Berlin feels Soviet Premier Khrushchev may be using that perennial crisis to sow fears and differences among the Western Allies and impede European progress toward political unity.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who commanded the 1948-49 operation that broke the Berlin blockade, says he notes substantial improvement in West Berlin's situation at the moment and adds he sees no immediate change in prospect.

But he cautions Khrushchev conceivably might risk war over the city, not because he wants free West Berlin that badly, but because "he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe."

Clay, to many Germans a symbol of a U.S. promise not to abandon West Berlin to communism, advanced his views in an exclusive and unusually illuminating interview in New York with The Associated Press, the first of which follows in question and answer form. The second half of the interview will be presented Thursday.

Q. You are getting to be quite a commuter to Berlin aren't you, General?

A. Well I hope I'll be lengthening the time between visits, because I think they are in a status quo there now. It could last for many, many months.

Q. Why?

A. Well in the first place the morale of the people in Berlin has withstood the wall and there is not much that the Communists can do to frighten Berlin short of those measures that would undoubtedly lead to massive counter measures. The pin-pricks which they might exert against the Allies carried great risk. And they proved to be a failure in disturbing the Berliners. So I don't see what they have to gain out taking that risk.

Q. Will your mission continue for the duration of the Berlin crisis?

A. I don't think we know. The President has asked me to continue as an advisor and obviously there is very little advice to give as long as we stay in the position of status quo. As far as Berlin is concerned there has been a substantial improvement.

Q. In what way?

A. Well the morale of the people has returned to normal and in fact I think they are probably more determined than ever to hold out. The economy of the city has recovered from the initial shock and looks like it is on the move again.

Q. But the basic situation as between the West and the Russians?

A. It remains unchanged and I don't see any immediate change in prospect.

Q. What do you suppose was behind Khrushchev's recent proposal, which we rejected, that Western troops in Berlin be replaced by Norwegian-Danish or Belgian-Dutch plus Czech-Polish forces?

A. I think Mr. Khrushchev would like very much to get the Allies out of West Berlin. The presence of the Allied troops there and the rapid development of the city has of course made it a veritable citadel of freedom he would like to destroy.

Now this proposal to replace the Allies with the troops of other nations, of course, doesn't make very much sense. We are in Berlin as a result of victory in war. Many of these nations were not even in the war. There is no right to garrison Berlin per se. The people of West Berlin cannot be made to accept garrisons from any and all countries.

We have added to that a firm commitment to the people of West Berlin that as long as they want our troops there they will be here. We couldn't give up on that commitment under any circumstances.

Huge Balloon Put in Space

Sphere Carves Path For Advanced 'Echo'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The largest space vehicle ever sent aloft — a balloon which inflated to the height of a 13-story building — was rocketed 950 miles above the Atlantic Ocean today as a forerunner of an advanced Echo communications satellite.

The gleaming silvery sphere, dubbed "Big Shot," provided a brief but spectacular show for ground observers in the Cape Canaveral area as it separated from the Thor booster, expanded to its full 135-foot diameter, and drifted across the predawn sky.

It was visible for nearly 10 minutes before becoming obscured by haze and cloud.

Clouds apparently confined observation of the big ball to the Cape area. Clear skies would have permitted observation of the balloon throughout much of the eastern United States.

Today's shot was to determine whether the balloon would expand and hold its form after being sent aloft. There were no communications tests.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced success of the mission, which paves the way for launching a similar balloon into orbit later this year as the Echo II experimental communications satellite.

After rising to 950 miles the balloon plunged back and burned up as intended in the earth's atmosphere. Death of the sphere occurred about 23 minutes after the 4:30 a.m. launching, some 600 miles south of the cape.

"Big Shot" is easily the largest package ever sent into space. However, many U.S. satellites have weighed much more than its 510 pounds.

The Air Force announcement said the craft will be flying at about twice the speed of sound for a number of simulated bombing runs. They are Strategic Air Command craft based at Bunker Air Force Base in Indiana.

The booms may be heard between 8 and 11 p.m., EST, the Air Force warned.

Sonic Booms To Be Heard

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohioans in a 40-mile corridor between Cincinnati and Cleveland who think they are hearing thunder tonight through Friday night may be hearing sonic booms, instead.

The booms, if any, will be coming from two B-58 Hustler bombers on a training mission, the Air Force announced today, but they will be flying at extremely high altitudes to minimize the shock waves of what the Air Force prefers to call the "sound of freedom."

The Air Force announcement said the craft will be flying at about twice the speed of sound for a number of simulated bombing runs. They are Strategic Air Command craft based at Bunker Air Force Base in Indiana.

Red Buzzing Viewed As Isolated Incident
BERLIN (AP)—Western officials regard the buzzing of an American plane by a Russian jet Tuesday as an isolated incident, informed sources said today.

The officials reportedly could find no evidence that the Soviets planned to resume their harassment of Western planes of last winter. Traffic in the air corridors was normal today.

The United States protested to Soviet officials against the incident.

President Firm On U.S. Policy

Russian Ambassador Is Given Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP)—In words destined for Premier Khrushchev, President Kennedy is reported to have told the Soviet ambassador that the Soviet Union's demand for removal of U.S. troops from West Berlin is totally unacceptable.

Kennedy met with Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin for an hour Tuesday night in his office at the White House. They also discussed Laos, disarmament and the problem of a ban on nuclear tests.

Dobrynin said as he climbed into his limousine to return to his embassy, "It would be improper for me to comment."

Kennedy intervened personally in U.S.-Soviet talks on the Berlin situation in the evident hope of overcoming any lingering belief in Moscow that the troops issue may be negotiable or that the United States would yet yield to threats and pressures and accept some kind of compromise for West Berlin's military protection.

The President's move came two days before Secretary of State Dean Rusk leaves for Geneva where he plans to talk over the East-West Berlin stalemate with A. Gromyko. The occasion for their gathering in Geneva will be the signing of accords on the neutralization of Laos.

The effect of Kennedy's action is to reinforce Rusk's position at a crucial stage of the U.S.-Soviet talks.

The talks which began last September are deadlocked. There is little hope in official quarters that the deadlock can be broken in the predictable future. There is some lingering hope that if Khrushchev fully understands U.S. determination in support of West Berlin he may be willing to reach some agreement on what the diplomats call a "modus vivendi"—a way of living with the situation without stirring up major crises periodically.

It was authoritatively reported that Kennedy's main concern in the unusual session with Dobrynin was to emphasize personally the importance he attaches to the U.S. position that the Soviet demand for withdrawal of U.S., British and French troops from West Berlin is nonnegotiable.

Laos Peace Treaty OK'd

GENEVA (AP)—The 14-nation Laos Conference approved today the final version of a peace and neutrality treaty for the jungle kingdom.

In a restricted session the chief delegates of the 14-month-old talks breezed through the final report of the drafting committee.

This included the texts of an international treaty and a declaration of neutrality by the coalition Laotian government of national unity, headed by neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma.

The conference will meet again for a full session Sunday to record its agreement in the last official act of the meeting, but this is a pure formality. The ceremony of signature by the foreign ministers was set for next Monday.

4 U.S. Fliers Found Alive after Crash

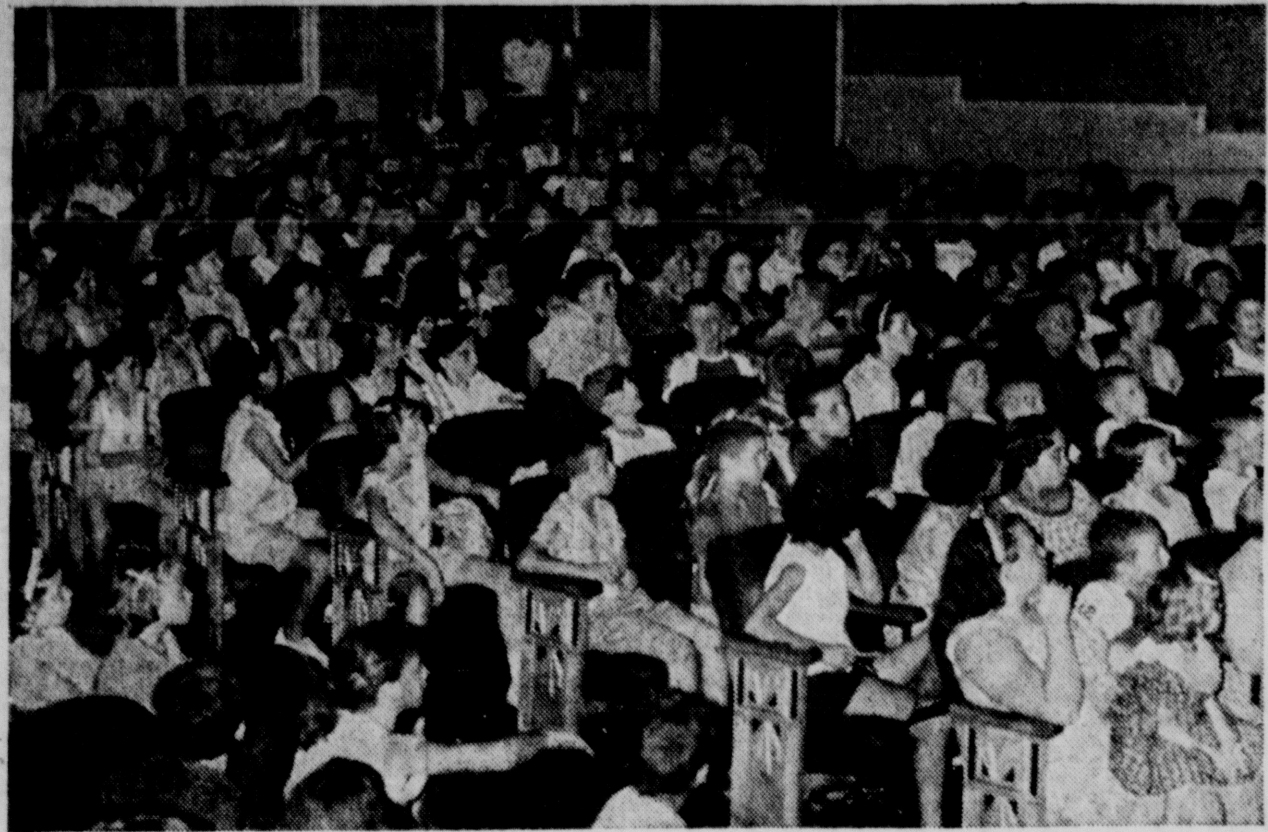

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—All four U.S. Air Force crewmen aboard a two-engine transport that crashed Sunday were found alive late today.

A rescue helicopter was unable to land at the crash site in the mountainous terrain 150 miles northeast of here. But a sling lift was lowered, on which two of the survivors were lifted to a hovering craft and taken to a field hospital at the coastal town of Nha Trang.

One of the other two survivors apparently had a broken leg, and could not use a sling. The fourth survivor stayed on the ground with his companion, and medical personnel were lowered.

Norfolk Delegation Again Presses for Better Conditions

A citizens delegation from the Norfolk Ave. area approached City Council last night with renewed pleas for improved conditions in their neighborhood.

City water facilities and improved street conditions were high on the list of "city privileges" sought by the delegation. The deliberation that followed consumed a large portion of the lawmakers' regular session.

The Norfolk group, residents of the Turner Addition, appeared before Council on July 3 with similar requests. They were back last night to press harder and seek advice in their efforts to obtain better living conditions.

Other complaints coming under scrutiny were high weeds which blight the area, the need for better street lighting and the unsanitary condition caused by cows in the neighborhood. One delegate noted that residents there could receive mail if streets were put in proper shape and if mail boxes were brought out to the street line.

INDICATIONS were that most residents of the Norfolk area are aware of the problems that confront them, but are not sure how to tackle them. Council, apparently now ready to carry the ball for guide purposes, referred the complaints to appropriate committees as an official step for future action.

Early steps were taken after the July 3 Council meeting when Utilities Director Ervin Leist prepared a circulating petition directed to residents of the area to sound out their stand on obtaining city water.

However, it was learned last night that the petition met with little success because residents were left with the impression that cost of the water facilities would have to be paid in cash.

Leist quickly pointed out that the cost could be paid on an assessment program over a period of at least 10 years. He agreed to redraw a petition which would adequately explain the assessment procedure. The new measure will be circulated as a substitute for the previous one.

The discussion became further involved when it was learned that Councilman Boyd Horn also had Solicitor Kenneth Robbins to prepare a petition of like nature. A delegation spokesman said the two measures tended to confuse the water request picture.

Solicitor Robbins cleared the situation by saying it would probably be advisable to follow the new petition to be prepared by Leist.

APPROXIMATELY 27 property owners in the Turner Addition are involved in the drive for improved conditions. In the initial effort for water facilities, Leist reminded the delegation that at least half of the owners must agree on acceptance.

By further explaining the cost problem, the utilities head used the base cost of $3 per lineal front footage. He said this means owners on each side of the street would pay half the cost, or $1.50 per foot.

Delegation spokesmen indicated that street work to date on Norfolk has been satisfactory. However, they pointed out the need for continuance.

Service Director Ronald Sharrett said the roadway has been widened and graded. His recommendation was that traffic now use the street to compact the surface before additional work is undertaken.

The problem concerning the cows, reportedly owned by a relative of the addition owner, will be referred to the City Health Department, according to Council President Harold Clifton.

Police Chief Robert Temple informed the solons that lighting is poor leading to the addition. This phase is also due to come under committee study.

Model Airplane Causes Injury

A model airplane motor was the source of injury for one person who received emergency treatment yesterday at Berger Hospital.

Edward Withers, 19, 121 W. Water St., caught his left thumb in the motor of the model plane.

Three other persons received emergency treatment at the hospital.

Gerald Starkey, 20, 1107 S. Washington St., stepped on a rusty nail and received a puncture wound in his right foot.

Connie Sowers, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sowers, 223 S. Scioto St., fell off her bicycle while at her grandmother's and lacerated her left leg.

Margaret Ann Dorsey, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Dorsey, 501 E. Ohio St., fell off a porch at her home and injured her left arm and wrist.

2 Young Men Are Held in Slaying Probe

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Investigation of a North Hollywood, Calif., murder shifted here today following the arrest of two young men carrying papers belonging to the victim.

Police notified California authorities after finding the papers in the possession of Andrew G. Dunn, 18, of Baltimore, Md., and William L. Palmer, 25, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Dunn and Palmer were picked up Monday after a late model sports car they were driving was involved in a traffic accident.

Palmer quoted his companion as saying a man had turned the car over to him on the West Coast for a trip to Baltimore.

Police said a check with California authorities disclosed the car had been leased to the murder victim, Peter Donald Fallis, 43, of Burbank, Calif. Fallis' body was found in North Hollywood Monday.

Zanesville police said they have an order to hold the pair for authorities at North Hollywood, who indicated they will come here to question Dunn and Palmer.

An autopsy revealed that Fallis had been beaten on the head and strangled.

2 Children, 2 Adults Die In Collision

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Two Ohioans and two Florida residents died Tuesday in the crash of an automobile and a station wagon at the busy intersection of U. S. 6 and Ohio 199 about 13 miles east of here.

Highway patrolmen spent several hours trying to pin down identification of the dead.

They said a car driven by Daniel J. O'Neill of St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., collided with a station wagon driven by Mrs. Ruth O'Rork, 40, a Sandusky school teacher. O'Neill and his wife, Lorretta, died in the crash, along with her brother, Joseph, 7, had been riding with Mrs. O'Rork. Mrs. O'Rork died in Wood County Hospital about an hour after the crash.

Joseph Michael was being treated at the hospital for shock and other injuries. He and his sister were children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Michael of Rt. 4, Bowling Green. They were returning home with Mrs. O'Rork to Sandusky. Patrolmen had first identified them as children of Mrs. O'Rork.

Stock Market Still Declines

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was substantially lower early this afternoon. Trading slowed after an active morning.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.70 to 214.90, with industrials off 2.80, rails off .50, and utilities off .80.

Key stocks were down fractions to more than a point. Some of the "growth" issues lost several points.

The list was hit by fairly heavy selling in the morning. Brokers saw it as a continuation of Tuesday's late weakness which resulted in a sharp loss on the day.

The market was heading into its fourth straight decline following a sharp advance which lasted most of the three weeks. Some kind of corrective reaction was natural after such a prolonged rally, brokers said.

X15 Pilots Are Awarded Collier Trophy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy presented the Robert J. Collier Trophy today to Robert J. Collier, Jr., Robert M. White and three other test pilots of the rocket-powered X15 research airplane.

Kennedy presented the trophy in a ceremony on the White House south lawn which was attended by many people connected with aviation, including some past winners of the Collier Trophy, awarded annually for outstanding achievements in aviation.

Kennedy took note of White's flight Tuesday which reached a new altitude record for manned aircraft of 58.7 miles. The flight qualified White for astronaut wings.

Kennedy praised White and the others for their contributions to the conquest of space which the President calls "the new ocean."

White, 38-year-old engineer-test pilot, accepted the trophy on behalf of the four X15 pilots, but stressed that many other people who were not present had contributed to the success of the high-altitude flights.

Sharing the Collier award with White are Joseph Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Scott Crossfield of North American Aviation Co. and Navy Cmdr. Forrest Petersen.

French OK Own Nuclear Force

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly has fully endorsed President Charles de Gaulle's program to give France an independent nuclear force.

A motion of censure against Premier Georges Pompidou, aimed at the government's nuclear policies, drew only 206 votes 35 short of the majority needed for passage. Members of the 481-seat house who abstain or are absent from such votes are presumed to support the government.

Directly at issue was the government's request for supplemental appropriations for 1962, including $40 million for a plant at Pierrelatte, in southern France, to produce enriched uranium 235 for France's nuclear arms stockpile.

1962 State Subsidies Total $378 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes issued a report today showing state subsidies paid during fiscal 1962 totaling a record $378,447,325.

The payments, all made from the state's general revenue fund were up 5.28 per cent over the previous fiscal year.

The authorized 35 separate appropriations including seven veterans' organizations ranged from $2,415 for the Ohio Rainbow Division to $226,331.50 for the school foundation program.

Peru Troops Grab Government Reins

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Troops moved in on the government palace early today and seized President Manuel Prado in a military coup.

The coup, climaxing weeks of crisis, was bloodless.

Tanks and troops surrounded the palace, then Prado was taken away in a military vehicle.

The military acted after charging that the June 10 presidential elections were fraudulent.

A last minute political deal to swing the disputed presidency to former dictator Manuel Odria failed.

The target of the army wrath was Victor Raul Maya de la Torre, controversial political figure who ran first in the election but failed to get enough votes for the presidency.

A leftist but anti-Communist, he long has been at odds with the army and other politicians.

His Popular Revolutionary Alliance (APRA) agreed Tuesday to throw the presidency to the rightist Odria, who was third in the voting.

The military, however, apparently would not settle for such an arrangement although Odria is a conservative. Odria would need the support of Haya's forces in Congress, where the Odria and Haya groups would have a majority.

The constitution requires that Congress choose the president from among the three top men in the election unless the high man gets one-third of the total vote. Haya fell 6,000 votes short, Fernando Belaunde Terry came second and Odria was third. The leftist APRA and the rightist Odrista Union together will have a comfortable majority in the new Congress—if the military lets it meet.

After the APRA-Odria deal, outgoing President Manuel Prado restored Premier Carlos Monreya Paz Soldan and his Cabinet to office, rejecting all but one of the resignations the Cabinet had submitted Monday. The sole holdout, Navy Minister Guillermo Tirado, said his resignation was irrevocable.

Prado announced that the new Congress will meet July 28, as scheduled, to name the next president.

Odria, president from 1948-56, said in a radio-television broadcast he would accept the post if approved by Congress "for the sake of national unity."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced a suspension of diplomatic relations with Peru, whose government was taken over by a military coup early today.

Also brought to a halt is new U.S. Alliance for Progress aid to the South American country. This has been running about $75 million a year. However, U.S. aid projects already under way will continue, U.S. authorities indicated.

Strong U.S. displeasure at the military take-over in Lima was announced at the State Department by Press Officer Lincoln White. U.S. policymakers have been trying to encourage democratic progress and discourage military dictatorship in Latin American countries.

Solicitor Robbins cleared the situation by saying it would probably be advisable to follow the new petition to be prepared by Leist.

APPROXIMATELY 27 property owners in the Turner Addition are involved in the drive for improved conditions. In the initial effort for water facilities, Leist reminded the delegation that at least half of the owners must agree on acceptance.

By further explaining the cost problem, the utilities head used the base cost of $3 per lineal foot footage. He said this means owners on each side of the street would pay half the cost, or $1.50 per foot.

Delegation spokesmen indicated that street work to date on Norfolk has been satisfactory. However, they pointed out the need for continuance.

Service Director Ronald Sharrett said the roadway has been widened and graded. His recommendation was that traffic now use the street to compact the surface before additional work is undertaken.

The problem concerning the cows, reportedly owned by a relative of the addition owner, will be referred to the City Health Department, according to Council President Harold Clifton.

Police Chief Robert Temple informed the solons that lighting is poor leading to the addition. This phase is also due to come under committee study.

2 Young Men Are Held in Slaying Probe

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Investigation of a North Hollywood, Calif., murder shifted here today following the arrest of two young men carrying papers belonging to the victim.

Police notified California authorities after finding the papers in the possession of Andrew G. Dunn, 18, of Baltimore, Md., and William L. Palmer, 25, of Wheeling, W. Va.

Dunn and Palmer were picked up Monday after a late model sports car they were driving was involved in a traffic accident. Palmer quoted his companion as saying a man had turned the car over to him on the West Coast for a trip to Baltimore.

Police said a check with California authorities disclosed the car had been leased to the murder victim, Peter Donald Fallis, 43, of Burbank, Calif. Fallis' body was found in North Hollywood Monday.

Zanesville police said they have an order to hold the pair for authorities at North Hollywood, who indicated they will come here to question Dunn and Palmer.

An autopsy revealed that Fallis had been beaten on the head and strangled.

Model Airplane Causes Injury

A model airplane motor was the source of injury for one person who received emergency treatment yesterday at Berger Hospital.

Edward Withers, 19, 121 W. Water St., caught his left thumb in the motor of the model plane.

Three other persons received emergency treatment at the hospital.

Gerald Starkey, 20, 1107 S. Washington St., stepped on a rusty nail and received a puncture wound in his right foot.

Connie Sowers, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Sowers, 223 S. Scioto St., fell off her bicycle while at her grandmothers and lacerated her left leg.

Margaret Ann Dorsey, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Dorsey, 501 E. Ohio St., fell off a porch at her home and injured her left arm and wrist.

Stock Market Still Declines

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was substantially lower early this afternoon. Trading slowed after an active morning.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 1.70 to 214.90, with industrials off 2.80, rails off .50, and utilities off .80.

Key stocks were down fractions to more than a point. Some of the "growth" issues lost several points.

The list was hit by fairly heavy selling in the morning. Brokers saw it as a continuation of Tuesday's late weakness which resulted in a sharp loss on the day.

The market was heading into its fourth straight decline following a sharp advance which lasted most of the three weeks. Some kind of corrective reaction was natural after such a prolonged rally, brokers said.

X15 Pilots Are Awarded Collier Trophy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy presented the Robert J. Collier Trophy today to record-setting Maj. Robert M. White and three other test pilots of the rocket-powered X15 research airplane.

Kennedy presented the trophy in a ceremony on the White House south lawn which was attended by many people connected with aviation, including some past winners of the Collier Trophy, awarded annually for outstanding achievements in aviation.

Kennedy took note of White's flight Tuesday which reached a new altitude record for manned aircraft of 58.7 miles. The flight qualified White for astronaut wings.

Kennedy praised White and the others for their contributions to the conquest of space which the President calls "the new ocean."

White, 38-year-old engineer-test pilot, accepted the trophy on behalf of the four X15 pilots, but stressed that many other people who were not present had contributed to the success of the high-altitude flights.

Sharing the Collier award with White are Joseph Walker of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Scott Crossfield of North American Aviation Co. and Navy Cmdr. Forrest Petersen.

French OK Own Nuclear Force

PARIS (AP) — The French National Assembly has fully endorsed President Charles de Gaulle's program to give France an independent nuclear force.

A motion of censure against Premier Georges Pompidou, aimed at the government's nuclear policies, drew only 206 votes 35 short of the majority needed for passage. Members of the 481-seat house who abstain or are absent from such votes are presumed to support the government.

Directly at issue was the government's request for supplemental appropriations for 1962, including $40 million for a plant at Pierrelatte, in southern France, to produce enriched uranium 235 for France's nuclear arms stockpile.

1962 State Subsidies Total $378 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes issued a report today showing state subsidies paid during fiscal 1962 totaling a record $378,447,325.

The payments, all made from the state's general revenue fund were up 5.28 per cent over the previous fiscal year.

The authorized 35 separate appropriations including seven veterans' organizations ranged from $2,415 for the Ohio Rainbow Division to $226,331.50 for the school foundation program.

Peru Troops Grab Government Reins

LIMA, Peru (AP) — Troops moved in on the government palace early today and seized President Manuel Prado in a military coup.

The coup, climaxing weeks of crisis, was bloodless.

Tanks and troops surrounded the palace, then Prado was taken away in a military vehicle.

The military acted after charging that the June 10 presidential elections were fraudulent.

A last minute political deal to swing the disputed presidency to former dictator Manuel Odria failed.

The target of the army wrath was Victor Raul Maya de la Torre, controversial political figure who ran first in the election but failed to get enough votes for the presidency.

A leftist but anti-Communist, he long has been at odds with the army and other politicians.

His Popular Revolutionary Alliance (APRA) agreed Tuesday to throw the presidency to the rightist Odria, who was third in the voting.

The military, however, apparently would not settle for such an arrangement although Odria is a conservative. Odria would need the support of Haya's forces in Congress, where the Odria and Haya groups would have a majority.

The constitution requires that Congress choose the president from among the three top men in the election unless the high man gets one-third of the total vote.

Haya fell 6,000 votes short, Fernando Belaunde Terry came second and Odria was third. The leftist APRA and the rightist Odrista Union together will have a comfortable majority in the new Congress—if the military lets it meet.

After the APRA-Odria deal, outgoing President Manuel Prado restored Premier Carlos Monreya Paz Soldan and his Cabinet to office, rejecting all but one of the resignations the Cabinet had submitted Monday. The sole holdout, Navy Minister Guillermo Tirado, said his resignation was irrevocable.

Prado announced that the new Congress will meet July 28, as scheduled, to name the next president.

Odria, president from 1948-56, said in a radio-television broadcast he would accept the post if approved by Congress "for the sake of national unity."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced a suspension of diplomatic relations with Peru, whose government was taken over by a military coup early today.

Also brought to a halt is new U.S. Alliance for Progress aid to the South American country. This has been running about $75 million a year. However, U.S. aid projects already under way will continue, U.S. authorities indicated.

Strong U.S. displeasure at the military take-over in Lima was announced at the State Department by Press Officer Lincoln White. U.S. policymakers have been trying to encourage democratic progress and discourage military dictatorship in Latin American countries.

64 Is Not Old

No less an authority than Joseph S. Davis, director emeritus of the food research council at Stanford University, says that a growing number of people do not enter old age until they have passed 80, and that it is ridiculous to call anyone of 65 "aged."

Nowadays, according to Dr. Davis, 65-70 is deemed a period of transition into old age, and those who think otherwise do not know the story of increasing longevity in the United States.

People over the age of 65 may not be as great a health and welfare problem as some appear to think they are. But the fact that many people can lead useful lives up to and including the age of 80 could throw retirement theories out of kilter.

Already there are many who think 65 is a ridiculous age at which to retire men. In the year 1962, it is a too-early age. But automation leads to hesitation about changing it.

What will happen 20 years from now when many men will still be active and useful at 80 or 85? Should not the retirement age increase along with the life span?

As Mr. Davis points out, old age was reached at 40 in primitive times, 50 in the eighteenth century, and 60 at the dawn of this century. By the year 2000, a man will not be aged until he is 85 or 90. Will people still be retired at 65 when that time comes? If so, there will be a lot of unemployed employables.

Gone Are the Days

County seat wars just aren't what they used to be.

In the gaudy old days in the West, when towns competed for the courthouse they did it with bullets and stealth and plain, old-fashioned thievery.

And what do they do in these effete times? They argue and vote and appeal to the courts. It would be tough to get a TV drama out of that.

In Logan County, Kans., where there's been a move afoot to transfer the county seat from Russell Springs (pop. 112) to Oakley (pop. 2,319) citizens voted in favor of the proposal. Russell Springs contested the election, it went to the state supreme court, which sent it back to the district court, and another hearing is in progress now.

It wouldn't have taken that long in the old days, and it would have been a lot more interesting.

Hillbillies Are Dying Out

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Dwellers in the Great Smoky Mountains will long remember Charlie Garland.

They just don't build hillbillies anymore like Charlie, who was known in his heyday as "The Iron Man of the Mountains."

Charlie became a legend among the hill people by one feat. He bought a cookstove at a hardware store here, heisted it onto his back and carried it 29 miles across a winding stony trail to his home without once setting it down.

The term "hillbilly" may carry a note of ridicule in the effete cities, but here in the home of the Southern highlander it is used with an affectionate respect based on admiration for the virile qualities of the men who long ago settled in these haze-covered mountains.

The traditions of the sturdy highlanders were celebrated here over the weekend in the 10th National Hillbilly Homecoming, a regional festival that now draws spectators and participants from a 20-state area.

The community here simply turns the clock back a generation or two for three days. Long beards and black mountain hats suddenly bloom everywhere.

Everyone gorges on country ham and red eye gravy, or fried fish and hush puppies, and has a fine old nostalgic gallus-snapping time. The nights ring with Elizabethan ballads, country music, and even the black bears creep down from the star-crowned hills to listen to the haunting strains of dulcimer, lute and fiddle.

But this annual festival celebrates a way of life that is passing among a people that formerly clung most stubbornly to the folkways of their forebears.

Great changes have come within less than the span of a lifetime.

Their natural beauty has turned the Great Smokies into one of the nation's favorite resort areas. New roads and skeletal steel power lines have destroyed the isolation of the mountaineer and brought him civilization's boons—electric lights, air conditioning, refrigeration, and television.

A chronicler of these changes, Norma Wilson, who with her husband operates one of the best known restaurants in the hill country, is a bit wistful over the swiftness of the transition.

"Mountain talk is gradually dying out," she said, "but mountain people still have the good qualities inherited from their forefathers."

"They're sincere, independent, and proud, and they'll do anything for you. They stick together, and they take care of their own. Some old-timers think public welfare is ruining the mountains."

Perhaps the most striking contrast between the old and the new in mountain life is this fact: The daughter of one of the most celebrated old moonshiners recently graduated as valedictorian of her high school class.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—Like a coy maiden the economy still doesn't say yes and it doesn't say no.

The clear cut answer to what it's going to do, which could settle the question of a tax cut now or later, still eludes the statisticians—and apparently the policy makers.

Business statistics for the most part continue to be higher than a year ago. Many are higher than the previous month. But the gains are far from impressive. And to many persons they are downright disappointing.

Part of the trouble is that just being better than last year doesn't satisfy the planners who have seen higher goals for the economic growth rate. Business must expand faster to take care of unemployment and other ills. It's an American trait to be restless if everything isn't always bigger and better.

Part of the problem is the uncertainty among businessmen. A large portion believes that the year as a whole will be a good one, if not spectacular. But as large a group fears another recession is being forecast by the increases of the chief business statistics.

And the break in stock prices—though variously explained—is looked upon by a large portion of the general public as a warning of possibly less prosperous times ahead.

Yet in June personal incomes rose to a record high. There were gains in retail, wholesale and service industry payrolls. The disturbing factor was a slight drop in manufacturing payrolls. And this made the increase from May to June the lowest for any month since January.

Industrial production also rose to a high in June. But the gain over May was so slight as to be unnoticeable on most charts. Acting as brakes were the downturn in steel output and the Ford strike. Production of most other goods continued to rise.

The Ford work stoppage is over and auto production and sales still look quite healthy.

The steel downturn, although basic and disturbing, could be due to an earlier buildup of inventories as a hedge against a strike or price increase, followed by a cutback as users lived off these stocks.

A drop in retail sales in June from May also worries the south-sayers. But retail sales still are ahead of a year ago, and only a few see June as necessarily setting a trend.

New orders for heavy machinery and other capital goods have fallen—often a forerunner of a downturn in industry. Now businessmen are watching to see if new tax incentives, just granted or still pending in Congress, will revive this form of business spending.

But in all the present uncertainty these things seem clear.

1. The economy hasn't ground to a halt, but it isn't growing fast enough to please most planners in or out of government.

2. Businessmen are uneasy and marking time—worried about the outlook, about the attitude of government toward them, about profit margins.

3. Europeans are now openly debating the future of the American economy—and the value of its dollar.

4. The upcoming congressional election makes tax cutting a political as well as an economic issue.

Nest on Top of Log Means Hurricane Ahead

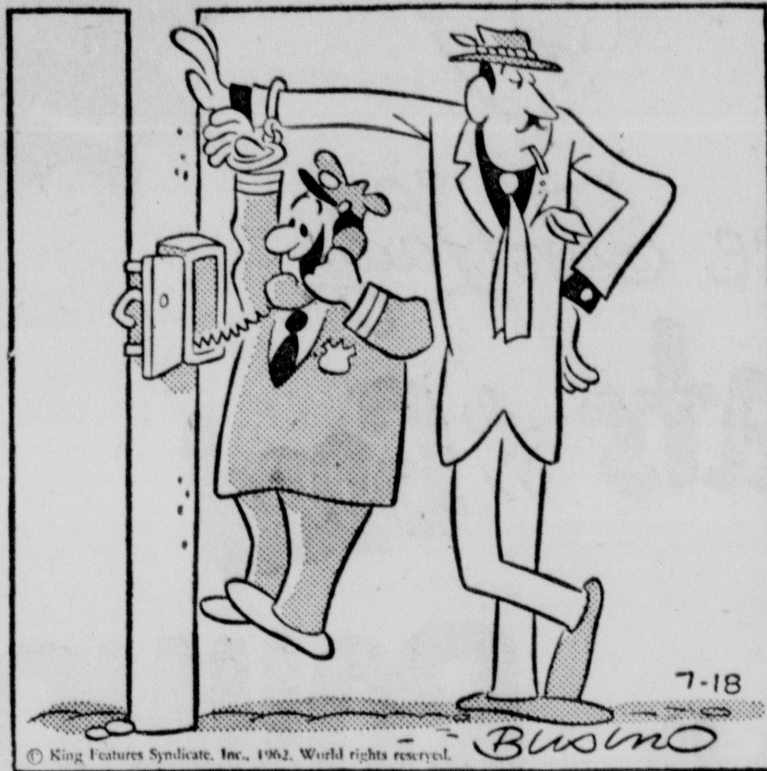

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—Billy Bowlegs, a Seminole weather prophet, saw a rat build its nest atop an oak log. He foresees a bad hurricane season ahead.

The Indian, who says he is 100, explains rats usually nest inside logs. But "when they build them on top, watch out."

He could be right. In 1947, on the same basis, he forecast a bad season. A hurricane smacked Florida.

Al turned up for work Monday morning looking worse than ever. "I haven't eaten for five days," he confessed. "What happened to the 50 bucks I gave you?" demanded his friend.

An Interesting Quarrel

By George Sokolsky

I have before me a Complaint filed in the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania. It is entitled: Al-hajji Taib Ahmad Dawud and Dakota Staton V. Elijah Muhammad and Muhammad's Temple of Islam.

The foregoing plaintiffs assert that they are officers and members of the Muslim Brotherhood which is "dedicated to the propagation of the Islamic Faith and the teaching of the Brotherhood of Man."

In the Complaint, the plaintiffs assert that Elijah Muhammad, "in the name of the Islamic Faith and the Muslim Religion teaches in these various Temples and Mosques 'Racial Inequality,' 'Black Supremacy' and the separation of the Negro people from the American community insofar as it is white; he demands renunciation of loyalty to the United States Government; that Negroes be resettled in States as a separate nation; that they avoid all association with white persons, and that they bear no arms in the service of the United States."

In a word, according to this Complaint, Elijah Muhammad advocates sedition and even treason. This, of course, is a matter for the courts to decide. What the Complaint indicates is that there is a difference of opinion among the Moslems in this country. Why Elijah spells it Muslim, I don't know. Afo why he uses the name Muhammad for Mohammed, I also do not know.

What Dawud objects to is that Elijah teaches false doctrines. He says:

"... these doctrines, if passed off as the Muslim religion, are false, misleading, and a deliberate distortion of the Muslim Faith, directly contrary to the teachings thereof, and designed to mislead the general public into a mistaken belief about Islam, and to cast great discredit upon one of the principal religions of mankind."

The plaintiffs aver: "The adherents of the Islamic Faith number in the hundreds of millions, but there is no responsible group of these that advocates 'racial superiority,' 'black supremacy' or similar doctrines: the principal teaching being the Unity of God and the Brotherhood of Man. The followers of Islam are of every race and ethnic origin."

The defendant is an American Negro, Elijah Poole, who claims to be the principal prophet of Islam which puts him on a par with Mohammed who founded the Islamic faith and is reputed to have prepared the Koran. His city, Mecca, is the holy city of his faith, to which Moslems make pilgrimages.

Mohammed as an Arab not a Negro. He lived in the Seventh Century and his religion prevails today among the Arabic nations and in North Africa. There are also important Islamic areas throughout Asia.

Dakota Staton, in her statement, denies that Elijah's ideas are based on the Koran which she spells Quran.

Elijah Poole, although a Negro, is pro-segregationist, on the grounds of black nationalism. In Dawud's statement, he says: "Islam describes the nature of God the Creator as being unseen; that 'God cannot be seen with the physical eyes . . . He is too subtle to be seen by the eye of man, but he is aware of everything.'"

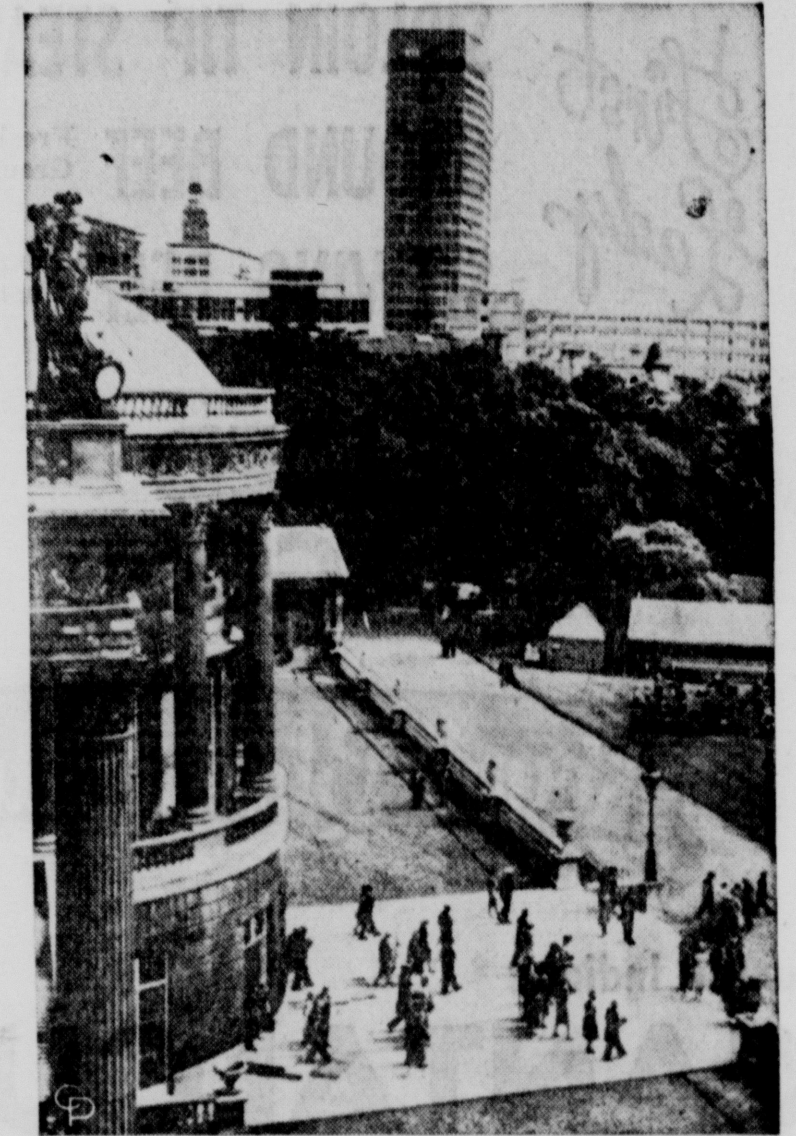

"On the other hand, Elijah describes as God one W. D. Fard, whom he met on a street corner in Detroit in 1934, and who appointed him his 'Messenger' to the black people of North America. If Elijah's pronouncements are true they are on their face antagonistic to the Holy Quran, of which for all Muslims, there is only one in existence."

What undoubtedly is intended here is to say that only one God is in existence. Further, he says:

"Elijah declares all white men to be 'devils,' and claims that all black men who embrace him as the 'Messenger' will be saved at the time of the destruction of the United States while the 'devils' will be destroyed."

Dawud finally challenges Elijah Poole to debate him. He says: "I challenge Elijah Poole to a debate on Islam as based on the teachings of the Holy Quran and the Holy Prophet, Muhammad, a debate to be moderated by a person of the same eminence in the theology of Islam as the Honorable Muhammad Zafrullah Khan, Pakistani Ambassador to the United Nations, and former vice-president of the International Court of Justice."

This is an interesting quarrel. Elijah Poole runs contrary to Negro leadership in this country. His opponents have generally been Christians; in this instance, Moslem Negroes oppose him.

QUEEN'S PRIVACY 'INVADED'—Guests make their way from rear of Buckingham Palace to a royal garden party in London, and therein hangs a tale of "invasion" of the queen's privacy. Anyone with binoculars can watch the party from the Hilton Hotel rising high beyond. The Associated Portland Cement Building offers similar look-seeing, which prompted a London editor to observe that Queen Elizabeth might be using the palace less and less in the future.

Pennsy-NYC Railroad Merger To Save $75 Million Yearly

CHICAGO (AP)—The Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads announced a merger plan that they estimate will save an estimated $75 million a year within five years.

The lines said freight service will be improved generally and passenger service will not be changed except for terminat operations in New York and Chicago.

The plan, announced in Chicago and in New York, envisions a $70-million capital plant improvement program which the companies said will give new impetus to the national economy.

This will be financed partly through sale of released duplicate facilities, materials and real estate.

"Generally improved freight service with substantial economies was predicted through use of more favorable through routes, the merged equipment of both lines, and increased utilization of modern yards, shops and other facilities now used to capacity," the railroads said in a statement.

As for passenger service, it would not be changed, except that New York Central long distance trains operating via Harmon, Albany, Syracuse and Buffalo would use Pennsylvania station in New York.

All other trains, including commuters, would continue to use present facilities.

In Chicago all trains would use Union Station except those New York Central trains now using the Illinois Central Terminal. These would continue to do so.

"Anticipated benefits of the merger," the statement said, "will reach an estimated $75 million per year within five years with completion of a $70 million capital plant improvement program which will give new impetus to the national economy."

The Pennsy and Central said the organization structure of the proposed merged railroad, including location of system and regional headquarters, is yet to be decided.

In general, the statement said, through freight moving between the Middle West and the New York City and New England areas would be routed by way of Cleveland, Buffalo and Albany.

64 Is Not Old

No less an authority than Joseph S. Davis, director emeritus of the food research council at Stanford University, says that a growing number of people do not enter old age until they have passed 80, and that it is ridiculous to call anyone of 65 "aged."

Nowadays, according to Dr. Davis, 65-70 is deemed a period of transition into old age, and those who think otherwise do not know the story of increasing longevity in the United States.

People over the age of 65 may not be as great a health and welfare problem as some appear to think they are. But the fact that many people can lead useful lives up to and including the age of 80 could throw retirement theories out of kilter.

Already there are many who think 65 is a ridiculous age at which to retire men. In the year 1962, it is a too-early age. But automation leads to hesitation about changing it.

What will happen 20 years from now when many men will still be active and useful at 80 or 85? Should not the retirement age increase along with the life span?

As Mr. Davis points out, old age was reached at 40 in primitive times, 50 in the eighteenth century, and 60 at the dawn of this century. By the year 2000, a man will not be aged until he is 85 or 90. Will people still be retired at 65 when that time comes? If so, there will be a lot of unemployed employables.

ALBUMS OF COMPLETE SELECTIONS FOR WEDDING INVITATIONS, ANNOUNCEMENTS, RECEPTION, AT HOME, AND THANK YOU CARDS

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kilian and daughter, Donna, Route 2, have returned home after an extended visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis T. Keys, Baldwin, Fla. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Keys are the parents of a 7-pound 7/2-ounce daughter born July 13.

Judge and Mrs. William D. Radcliff and son, Dudley, Ridgewood Drive, have returned from a 15-day vacation. They flew to Chicago and joined a party of 38 persons, all taking a planned tour of the West Coast by train. A few of the interesting places they visited were the Grand Canyon, Disneyland, Knotts Berry Farm, The Seattle World's Fair and Vancouver, Canada. Their return to Chicago completed the Grand Western Circle Tour.

Flint McDonald, Tom Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walker and sons Stanley and Fred, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Grover and daughter, Amy Lou, and Mrs. Margaret Cook all of Circleville, were recent dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Speakman and family, St. Paris.

Mrs. Helen Slaven, Washington C. H., member of the Circleville Art League, now has a number of paintings on display at the Serwin-Williams Paint Store. She has won ribbons on some of her paintings and at present is studying with Mrs. Violet Linton, Leesburg. Painting is a hobby of Miss Slaven who is office manager of The Craig Brothers Co., Washington C. H. and state treasurer of the Ohio Federation of Business and Professional Womens Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kohler, Tempe, Ariz., and Mrs. Eleanor Spriggs, Baltimore, O., were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Jud Poling, Route 4.

Mrs. Robert Young, 124 W. Franklin St., has returned from a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John G. Ward Jr., of Port Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robbins, 709 N. Pickaway St., recently spent a weekend with their son, Kenneth, who is attending summer school at Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind.

Delicious and quickly-prepared appetizer: canned drained pimiento to garnish with a criss-cross of anchovy filets and served on crisp salad greens. This is a pantry-shelf idea that you might like to use when unexpected company comes. Good to accompany this first course-olive oil, wine vinegar, French bread or hard rolls and sweet butter.

Dear Abby: A Bird in the Bush

by Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know my parents mean well but they are not on my side in a very important matter. I used to like a boy named Dick, but I lost interest in him. My parents are crazy about Dick and have practically made him a member of the family. They have told him he is welcome to come over any time, which he does. I would just as soon not have him around the house all the time as other boys stay away when they see his car parked outside. My parents say he comes over to see THEM, not me, and I don't have to pay any attention to him. Do you think this is fair to me?

Eitel Family Honors Member On Birthday

Forty-five relatives honored Mrs. John Eitel Sr. on her birthday recently when they met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Fausnaugh, Route 3, for a picnic dinner.

All eight children of the honored guest were present. Attending were Mrs. E. F. Hutchinson, John Eitel Sr. and Mrs. Walter Eecard, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Burns and sons Tim and Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eitel and son Tom, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Faraabee and children Jeannie and Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eitel and son, Dana, Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Strickler and sons Gary and Neil, Mr. and Mrs. John Eitel Jr. and sons Johnnie, David and Brian, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eitel and children Pam and Bobbie, Mrs. Robert Fausnaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Cline, Mrs. Larry Thomas and daughter Sheri Lynn and Mr. and Mrs. James Fausnaugh and children Linda, Karen, Jamie and Mike.

Mrs. Dave Styers and daughter Jennifer Lynn were afternoon visitors.

Wife Preservers

To convert thin suds to a heavy lather, try squishing a sponge several times in them.

How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Dear Abby: I recently graduated from secretary school and got a job as secretary to a man who is old enough to be my grandfather. When I take dictation, he pulls my chair near his. Several times he has pressed his knee to mine. I thought it was an accident at first, so I just moved my knee. Now I know it is no accident! How can I put a stop to it without making an embarrassing accusation or getting fired?

NEW GIRL: There are more than knees involved here. Start looking for another job or you'll be up to your neck in trouble.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LULU: You should have walked home. You can always buy a new pair of shoes.

SW Ohio Blue Cross Granted 18 Pct. Hike

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Ohio Insurance Department has granted most of the Blue Cross hospitalization rate hike sought in 15 Southwestern Ohio counties.

Robert Mullins, state insurance chief, said Tuesday the increases, ranging from 50 cents to $1.90 monthly on individual contracts, will be effective Sept. 1.

The increases represent about 18 per cent of present costs. Hospital Care Corp., the Blue Cross agency, had asked for increases of about 21.5 per cent.

Present and new fees are: Standard 70 - day group contracts—single, $2.75 to $3.25 a month; family, $6.95 to $8.05.

Standard 70-day bill - at - home contracts—single, $4.50 to $5.45 Comprehensive 120-day contracts—single, $4 to $5; family, $9.60 to $11.10.

The increases will affect approximately 1.6 million Blue Cross subscribers in Adams, Brown, Butler, Clermont, Drake, Clinton, Clark, Greene, Hamilton, Miami, Montgomery, Preble, Scioto and Warren counties and all of Highland County except Greenfield.

Give a sponge cake a pretty topping! Pace a paper doily over the top and sprinkle thoroughly with confectioners sugar; lift up the doily ever so carefully. The first time you try this, choose a doily with an extremely simple design!

When you are soaking salt herring before using, drain off the water several times and replace it with fresh water. Usually the herring needs to soak at least overnight.

U.S. Railroads Order Cutback As of Aug. 16

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's railroads notified their union operating personnel Tuesday that economy and other steps recommended by a presidential board will be put into effect Aug. 16.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the railroads' bargaining committee, during the next year of about 13,000 firemen employed as second men on diesel locomotives in freight and yard service.

"The firemen displaced will receive unprecedented severance pay, retraining and rehiring," Wolfe said. The remaining 27,000 firemen in freight and yard service, he said, will keep their jobs "subject only to natural attrition."

"Their retention will at the outset cost the railroads about $216 million a year for doing nothing," Wolfe said.

He added that a presidential railroad commission's recommendation for wage increases and other benefits which would affect about 75 per cent of the operating employees also will be put into effect on Aug. 16.

The date is exactly one month after the National (Railway) Mediation Board formally ended its efforts to settle the long pending manpower economies dispute.

A 30-day period is required under the law during which the unions are forbidden to strike and the carriers are prevented from making changes in pay or working conditions.

If agreement between the unions and carriers is not reached before the 30 days, President Kennedy could invoke the law's emergency provisions.

Operating personnel are workers directly involved in the movement of trains — engineers, firemen, engineers, train men, brakemen, conductors and switchmen. There are more than 200,000 persons so employed.

The unions declared that some 40,000 employees would lose their jobs through acceptance of the recommendations whereas the industry placed the figure at only 11,000.

Ohio Motorist Is Forgetful

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP)—State police stopped a Chagrin Falls, Ohio, man on the I-75 freeway near here Monday and suggested he might have forgotten something.

The man drove back to a service station he had just left and found his wife, Mrs. Lois Doolittle, and one child waiting for him. Doolittle and another youngster had driven off while the other two were in a rest room.

Absentee Driver Revocation Upheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The 10th District Court of Appeals Tuesday upheld a common pleas court ruling that a defendant does not have to be in court to have his license suspended under the driver revocation law.

Charles A. Fisher had contended he was not notified of the court hearing. He said the notice of the hearing was sent by certified mail to his last known address in Columbus and was returned as unclaimed.

However, both courts held the Bureau of Motor Vehicles had followed the statutes in attempting to notify Fisher. The driver revocation law permits a maximum of 12 points before revocation.

The Sains have a 10-year-old daughter. Her ambition is to be a truck driver.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's immediate reaction to Tuesday's defeat of his program of medical care for the aged—that killed it for 1962—was to make it an issue in this year's elections.

He blamed "nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats" who joined them for defeat. This was the third time this year a major Kennedy program was massacred in Congress.

True, Republicans have been ganging up to defeat or try to defeat one Kennedy program after another. But so have some of his own Democrats—particularly Southern Democrats.

The performance of these Southerners should destroy any illusion—an illusion nurtured by Democratic politicians—that the Democratic party is some kind of single party which can make good on its promises.

The Democrats in this Congress—where they outnumber Republicans 64 to 36 in the Senate and 263 to 174 in the House—have made a sorry showing so far in 1962. But Kennedy still won't get rough with them.

Instead, he is calling for even more Democrats to be elected to Congress in November. It seems fair to ask: If he can't win with his present overwhelming Democratic majorities in Congress, how many more Democrats does he need?

On the House side the medical care plan hasn't even gone before the full House for a vote. The Ways and Means Committee, with 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans, won't let it out to be voted on. Why?

Because enough of those 15 Democrats have joined the 10 Republicans to keep it bottled up.

Finally the Kennedy administration—agreeing to compromises which greatly watered down the original medical care plan the President proposed—sought action in the Senate. It was killed there Tuesday by a 52-48 vote.

Twenty-one Democrats joined 31 Republicans to defeat it. Voting for it were 43 Democrats and only 5 Republicans.

Of the 21 Democrats who joined the 31 Republicans to repudiate the Kennedy program, 17 were Southern Democrats, some of them the same Democrats who have voted against Kennedy again and again.

Here, as in Kennedy's two other major defeats, Southerners made up a majority of the Democrats voting against the President.

When the House defeated his farm bill by a 215-205 vote, 48 Democrats and 167 Republicans voted against it while only one Republican and 204 Democrats voted for it.

Of those 48 Democrats who joined the Republicans against

By James Marlow

Kennedy, 29 were Southern Democrats.

Still earlier Kennedy had asked Congress to approve creation of a new department of urban affairs and housing. He said he would appoint Robert C. Weaver, a Negro and administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, to head it. The House promptly killed it, 264 to 150.

In this one 111 Democrats—94 of them Southern Democrats—joined 153 Republicans to kill Kennedy's proposal. Voting for it were 137 Democrats and only 13 Republicans.

This year only three programs which might be considered major legislation have been enacted into law through approval by a majority of both houses.

They were: manpower training and development; continuance of the emergency excise and corporation tax rates; and an increase in the national debt to $308 billion.

Even on the debt program—approved in the Senate by a 55-34 vote—12 of the 14 Democrats who joined 20 Republicans in voting against it were Southern Democrats. It was approved by 43 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

On the House side, where it was approved by a 211-192 vote, 33 of the 39 Democrats who joined 153 Republicans in voting against it were Southern Democrats. Voting for it were 202 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

Both houses have approved Kennedy's foreign aid program, but with differences that have to be ironed out before it can become law. All the other major bills are tied up in one house or the other.

Algerian Rebel's Ace Is His Army

ALGIERS (AP)—Algeria's Communist-equipped regular army is the ace in the gamble for power by dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella. It is an army of 45,000 tough, well-trained and determined men with something like a guilty conscience. It won its war of independence without ever fighting a real battle.

Unlike the underground resistance fighters in Algeria's cities, and the guerrilla soldiers who battled the French in the interior, the regular army spent the seven and a half years of war in neighboring Tunisia and Morocco, waiting to go into action.

Apart from sporadic attacks on the electrified French defense lines along Algeria's eastern and western borders, the action never came.

While they waited and trained, their chief of staff, Col. Houari Boumedienne, organized them into Communist-style shock troops, complete with political commissars and lectures on the evils of colonialism.

Red China, the Soviet Union and other Communist countries sent money, arms and equipment.

It was the guerrillas of the wilayas—zones — of the interior, fighting with knives and explosives or with arms captured from the enemy, who wore down the French resistance and sacrificed their lives to win independence.

On the eve of independence, Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda accused Boumedienne of plotting to use the army to set up a military dictatorship in the new state. Boumedienne was fired and the general staff dissolved, but the army ignored Ben Khedda and continued to obey Boumedienne's orders.

Ben Bella, advocating a speedy socialist revolution for Algeria

and dependence on the Communist world rather than the West, fled from Tunis, accused Ben Khedda of heading an illegal regime and joined forces with Boumedienne and his army.

Ben Khedda's government then asked the French authorities to hold the electrified barriers and keep the rebellious army out of the country at least until the new regime was firmly installed. The French refused, pointing out that the Evian cease-fire accords call for the frontiers to be opened immediately after the July 1 self-determination referendum.

Four of the six wilayas, covering the western half of the country, the Sahara in the south and the Aures Mountains in the east, quickly joined forces with the "brothers returning from exile."

Only the autonomous zone of Algiers and the two wilayas immediately east of the capital remained loyal to Ben Khedda. This left the government in control of little more than a coastal strip, barely 60 miles wide, stretching from Algiers eastward to the Tunisian border.

The government forces would be hopelessly outnumbered in a shooting fight. Most observers in Algiers believe Ben Khedda will be forced to come to terms with his enemies.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's immediate reaction to Tuesday's defeat of his program of medical care for the aged—that it killed it for 1962—was to make it an issue in this year's elections.

He blamed "nearly all the Republicans and a handful of Democrats" who joined them for defeat. This was the third time this year a major Kennedy program was massacred in Congress.

True, Republicans have been ganging up to defeat or try to defeat one Kennedy program after another. But so have some of his own Democrats—particularly Southern Democrats.

The performance of these Southerners should destroy any illusion—an illusion nurtured by Democratic politicians—that the Democratic party is some kind of single party which can make good on its promises.

The Democrats in this Congress—where they outnumber Republicans 64 to 36 in the Senate and 263 to 174 in the House—have made a sorry showing so far in 1962. But Kennedy still won't get rough with them.

Instead, he is calling for even more Democrats to be elected to Congress in November. It seems fair to ask: If he can't win with his present overwhelming Democratic majorities in Congress, how many more Democrats does he need?

On the House side the medical care plan hasn't even gone before the full House for a vote. The Ways and Means Committee, with 15 Democrats and 10 Republicans, won't let it out to be voted on. Why?

Because enough of those 15 Democrats have joined the 10 Republicans to keep it bottled up.

Finally the Kennedy administration—agreeing to compromises which greatly watered down the original medical care plan the President proposed—sought action in the Senate. It was killed there Tuesday by a 52-48 vote.

Twenty-one Democrats joined 31 Republicans to defeat it. Voting for it were 43 Democrats and only 5 Republicans.

Of the 21 Democrats who joined the 31 Republicans to repudiate the Kennedy program, 17 were Southern Democrats, some of them the same Democrats who have voted against Kennedy again and again.

Here, as in Kennedy's two other major defeats, Southerners made up a majority of the Democrats voting against the President.

When the House defeated his farm bill by a 215-205 vote, 48 Democrats and 167 Republicans voted against it while only one Republican and 204 Democrats voted for it.

Of those 48 Democrats who joined the Republicans against

Kennedy, 29 were Southern Democrats.

Still earlier Kennedy had asked Congress to approve creation of a new department of urban affairs and housing. He said he would appoint Robert C. Weaver, a Negro and administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, to head it. The House promptly killed it, 264 to 150.

In this one 111 Democrats—94 of them Southern Democrats—joined 153 Republicans to kill Kennedy's proposal. Voting for it were 137 Democrats and only 13 Republicans.

This year only three programs which might be considered major legislation have been enacted into law through approval by a majority of both houses.

They were: manpower training and development; continuance of the emergency excise and corporation tax rates; and an increase in the national debt to $308 billion.

Even on the debt program—approved in the Senate by a 55-34 vote—12 of the 14 Democrats who joined 20 Republicans in voting against it were Southern Democrats. It was approved by 43 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

On the House side, where it was approved by a 211-192 vote, 33 of the 39 Democrats who joined 153 Republicans in voting against it were Southern Democrats. Voting for it were 202 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

Both houses have approved Kennedy's foreign aid program, but with differences that have to be ironed out before it can become law. All the other major bills are tied up in one house or the other.

JFK News Conference Monday To Be Beamed by Telstar

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy will hold a news conference next Monday—and the White House said part of it will go live to Europe by means of the new communications satellite, Telstar.

The session with Washington newsmen will take place at 3 p.m. EDT. White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters "part of the President's conference will be carried by Telstar to Europe."

This historic first will be part of a program going both ways between America and Europe by means of Telstar. The news conference was timed to coincide with an orbit of the satellite which will put it in position to handle the telecast.

Salinger said he Telstar broadcast will include a program of news events beamed from the United States to Europe and part of it will take in the presidential news conference, picked up at its 3 p.m. starting time.

Just how long the news conference will be on the transatlantic transmission via Telstar is not known, Salinger said.

The President's news conference here will be transmitted by live television signals bounced off rope.

well-trained and determined men with something like a guilty conscience. It won its war of independence without ever fighting a real battle.

Unlike the underground resistance fighters in Algeria's cities, and the guerrilla soldiers who battled the French in the interior, the regular army spent the seven and a half years of war in neighboring Tunisia and Morocco, waiting to go into action.

Apart from sporadic attacks on the electrified French defense lines along Algeria's eastern and western borders, the action never came.

While they waited and trained, their chief of staff, Col. Houari Boumedienne, organized them into Communist-style shock troops, complete with political commissars and lectures on the evils of colonialism.

Red China, the Soviet Union and other Communist countries sent money, arms and equipment. It was the guerrillas of the wilayas—zones — of the interior, fighting with knives and explosives or with arms captured from the enemy, who wore down the French resistance and sacrificed their lives to win independence.

On the eve of independence, Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda accused Boumedienne of plotting to use the army to set up a military dictatorship in the new state. Boumedienne was fired and the general staff dissolved, but the army ignored Ben Khedda and continued to obey Boumedienne's orders.

Ben Bella, advocating a speedy socialist revolution for Algeria

and dependence on the Communist world rather than the West, fled from Tunis, accused Ben Khedda of heading an illegal regime and joined forces with Boumedienne and his army.

Ben Khedda's government then asked the French authorities to hold the electrified barriers and keep the rebellious army out of the country at least until the new regime was firmly installed. The French refused, pointing out that the Evian cease-fire accords call for the frontiers to be opened immediately after the July 1 self-determination referendum.

Four of the six wilayas, covering the western half of the country, the Sahara in the south and the Aures Mountains in the east, quickly joined forces with the "brothers returning from exile."

Only the autonomous zone of Algiers and the two wilayas immediately east of the capital remained loyal to Ben Khedda. This left the government in control of little more than a coastal strip, barely 60 miles wide, stretching from Algiers eastward to the Tunisian border.

The government forces would be hopelessly outnumbered in a shooting fight. Most observers in Algiers believe Ben Khedda will be forced to come to terms with his enemies.

Clay Says Khrush May Risk War

Q. Why do you suppose Khrushchev brought it up? Is it some sort of a gambit?

A. Yes, I think it's to show—before the world—that he is willing to compromise and find a settlement. He has several times said he would be glad to see West Berlin made into an international city. Now by that he means a city completely free and independent but having no connections with the Federal Republic of Germany. And of course a little enclave like West Berlin, entirely behind the Iron Curtain, would quickly fade away if it did not have its connections with the Federal Republic.

Q. Khrushchev said that the possibility of war over Berlin is "ever more ominous." What do you think?

A. I would say that possibility is entirely under the control of Mr. Khrushchev. Only if Mr. Khrushchev takes aggressive actions to destroy the city, to lessen the authority and responsibility of the Allies, will war become a possibility or a threat. So Mr. K to this extent is in control. He can make it a place where war can easily break out. But no one but Mr. K can do that.

Q. But your general feeling is that tension has lessened and the possibility of war is lower?

A. I think you have got to remember that the tensions we are speaking of are two different kinds. The important tension which existed between the U.S. and its Allies and Russia has abated. The constant needling of the Allies by the Soviets and East Germans has stopped. They are no longer threatening our air corridors. The general atmosphere is much more free of tension than it has been for some time. This is why it is possible to conduct talks that are going on now.

On the other hand the tension between the East German and the West German in Berlin has not abated. The wall is still there. The constant attempts of desperate people to escape through the wall leads to constant shootings across the border. People are killed quite frequently.

Q. The question of Berlin constantly comes up in Communist discussions of other issues such as nuclear weapons and disarmament. In propaganda to Germany the Communists say the U.S. is planning "new harassing maneuvers" against any solution in Berlin and intending to direct some sort of West German atomic aggression eastward. Are they leading up to something?

A. Of course, the Soviet government has already indicated its considerable apprehension over the growth of the Common Market and over its movement toward political unity. It has always been their view that these kinds of movements could be stopped by creating new tensions, new apprehensions, new fears. I have a feeling that their actions against Berlin have this in view.

For this reason, and since the alliance continues to grow very strongly towards eventual political union, I am inclined to believe that we may expect further pushes from Mr. K against Berlin.

At the present moment the economy of East Germany is in rather bad shape. That economy is oriented to West Germany and without trade with Western Germany it might indeed put East Germany in a very difficult economic position. Great efforts are being made to re-orient the economy of East Germany toward Warsaw Pact countries. This will take some time.

I doubt if the Communist countries will be included to take any moves that risk a break in the East German West German trade until they have succeeded in re-orienting the East German economy. This is another reason why I think we have an interlude of relative quiet in Berlin.

Q. You think, then, if he does do anything about Berlin it's primarily with an eye toward undermining the Western alliance?

A. There is a possibility that to stop the development of Western European political unity he might even be willing to risk war. It is certain he wouldn't risk war just for Berlin. So if these developments take place, if he begins to take the actions which could lead to war in Berlin it would not be because he wants Berlin. It would be because he wants to destroy the movement toward political unity in Western Europe.

Q. Khrushchev and other Communists have been repeating word for word the Warsaw Pact declaration of June 7, that unless the West agrees to sign peace treaties with both Germans, the East will go ahead on its own with all the consequences that it involves. Does this sound to you like a new ultimatum in the making?

A. This ultimatum has been one that has existed since 1958 and it is now 1962. I would suppose that there will come a time when Mr. K does have to go ahead with a peace treaty. Even if he does he could put in the reservations which would protect the rights of the Allies in West Berlin. If he doesn't why of course the peace treaty could lead to very serious consequences. I don't know when he is going to sign this peace treaty, if ever. I can't get excited because he talks about it again, since it has been a constant threat since 1958.

I also think it is very important that we must remember several things about this Berlin situation. One—I think a very important one—is that we gave up almost half of what is now East Germany for the position which we hold in Berlin. There wouldn't be an East Germany of any consequence if we had not given up the territory which we had captured in exchange for the position which we hold in West Berlin.

Q. You are speaking of the wartime agreements?

A. Yes. Under these agreements, too, the only troops allowed in West Berlin were Allied troops. We have lived up to that. On the other hand, the Soviet government started raising an East German army very quickly and they have stationed that army in East Berlin. We have never stationed any troops from the Federal Republic of West Germany in West Berlin. Now as a result of all that, certain basic commitments have been made publicly and solemnly, and negotiations cannot break away from these firm commitments. There are not very many.

They are basically — first, we will maintain Allied right of access on the ground and complete freedom of access in the air. Second, we will maintain the viability of West Berlin, meaning freedom of movement for persons and goods into West Berlin. Third, we have agreed that we will maintain our garrisons in West Berlin as long as the people of West Berlin want them.

We have also agreed with the Federal Republic not to recognize any other government as speaking for any portion of the German people other than the Federal Republic until the German people themselves have selected in free elections a government of their own. We have also agreed to support the future reunification of Germany. Finally, and I also think very importantly, we have said that we intend to support no lessening of the ties that exist between West Berlin and the Federal Republic.

The second half of the Clay interview will appear Thursday.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, July 18, the 199th day of 1962. There are 166 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this day in 1955, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss threw a switch and sent the first atomic-generated electricity into the lines of a private utility.

On this date:
In 1778, inhabitants of Vincennes, Ind., withdrew their allegiance to Britain and declared themselves citizens of the United States.

In 1870, the Roman Catholic doctrine of papal infallibility was promulgated.

In 1914, the aviation section of the U.S. Army Signal Corps was established.

In 1940, President Roosevelt was nominated for a third term by the Democratic National Convention.

In 1951, Jersey Joe Walcott at 37 became the oldest boxer to win the world heavyweight championship when he knocked out Ezzard Charles.

Today's birthdays:
Dramatist Clifford Odets is 56.
Comedian Red Skelton is 49.

Thought for today:
Blow, blow, thou winter wind!
Thou art not so unkind as man's ingratitude.—Shakespeare.

The sun loses four million tons of mass per second, but it is so enormous that its fuel should last for several billion more years.

Taxpayer Accepts Opinion of Boss

Detroit (AP)—Someone who signed himself "D. Deduction" wrote to the city regarding Detroit's new income tax:
"You ask on the withholding form what proportion of my work is done in Detroit."

"I was all set to fill in 100 per cent. But I had a long talk with my boss about my work."

"He made it very clear that as far as he can see I have not done a lick of work all year."

"So I have put down 'zero' on my withholding statement. If you want to argue, argue with him."

Marietta College Handed Challenge

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — Marietta College has received a $25,000 "challenge" grant from the Kresge Foundation of Detroit. President W. Bay Irvine announced today. The college must raise $3,845,000 by Jan. 1, 1965, to qualify for the grant.

President Irvine said the grant will serve as a stimulus to the college's eight-year program which seeks $8 million for expansion and endowment increases.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Fair weather with temperatures near the 60 degree mark prevailed over Ohio early today. Columbus had 59, Toledo and Akron 61, Cleveland and Cincinnati 63 and Marietta 67.

All areas are expected to have temperatures in the high 70s or low 80s this afternoon.

The weather map shows a high pressure area reaching from central Canada to the western Great Lakes and lower Ohio Valley. The location of the high will result in gentle northerly winds and slightly below normal temperatures for the state.

The Canadian high pressure area is moving very slowly and is expected to control Ohio's weather for the next two or three days. Skies will be generally fair with abundant sunshine, although there is some possibility of a few isolated afternoon showers.

Ankrom Unit In 16-8 Win

Ankrom Lumber's 16-8 win over the Building Supply nine in Mosquito League action yesterday vaulted them into a first place tie with Lewis Cook Insurance nine in the league.

Both teams have 8-2 records. The Supply team is in third place in the league with a 6-4 slate.

Rod Kasper paced the winning offense with four singles and two runs. Don Valentine scored three times on two hits and Bob Peters tallied two runs on two hits.

The Ankrom aggregation had 13 hits. They were credited with 36 stolen bases.

Terry Leasure was the winning pitcher, whiffing 15 and allowing three hits.

Mike Sabine and Howard Cline shared the mound duties for the losers.

Ankrom Entries Sweep Weekend Show at Dayton

Ankrom Stable entries copped a total of five first place trophies at the Box 21 Rodeo and Horse Show at Dayton during the weekend.

Ric-A-Shay won first place in the 50-inch and under saddle performance class with Judy Ankrom in the saddle on Friday evening.

Saturday morning Ric-A-Shay returned to the ring in the 50-inch and under model pony class in halfter and copped top honors. Shadrack won the 50-58 inch model pony class.

Saturday evening, Judy returned to the ring astride The Sharpshooter to win first place in the open pony parade class.

Sunday afternoon Shadrack rounded out the weekend performance of the local stables with a first place trophy in the 50-58 inch saddle performance class with Judy in the saddle.

Baugh Is Paid Off As Titans Coach

NEW YORK (AP) — Sammy Baugh has joined the thin line of coaches and managers, including Casey Stengel, who have been paid for not running a ball club. Singin' Sam has nothing but the best to say about the boys he left behind on the New York Titans of the American Football League. After coaching the Titans for two years, Baugh will be paid off in full—$20,000—for the last year of his contract.

"They have better material and a better club than we had last year," Baugh said Tuesday when he and owner Harry Wismer smoked the peace pipe in public at a news conference.

Dartmouth lacrosse captain John Walters of West Hempstead, N. Y., led the nation's scorers last spring with 65 points in 10 games.

Bank Battles Are Won by Savings, 2nd

The Second National Bank strengthened their hold on second position in the Little League minors with an 8-7 win over the Third National Bank, and the Savings Bank beat last place First National bank 10-7.

In the closely contested tilt between the Second and the Third National Banks, the winners took a short lived 4-3 lead in the first inning. The Third then went ahead with a two run second inning, and stretched their lead with one in the third. The Second scored three in the fifth and added the winning run in the final frame.

P. Strawser paced the Second hitting attack with two singles each, but Amann, Third National catcher, wielded the big bat in the game. He blasted a home run and a single in three trips to the plate.

Mark Lutz was the winning pitcher. He whiffed 12 and gave up five hits.

In the Savings-First tilt, Phil Reichelderfer paced the winning Savings Bank attack with three doubles and a single in five trips to the plate. He scored three runs. Dick Strawser was the big gun for the losers, batting in three runs with two doubles.

Mike Rhoades was the winning pitcher. He whiffed 12 and gave up five hits.

Indians Lose Their Fifth Straight Tilt

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The situation seems black. The Cleveland Indians are struggling to find a way out of their worst losing spell of the season as New York widens the gap in the American League race.

The Indians lost their fifth straight game Tuesday night when Camilo Pascual spun a five-hitter and the Minnesota Twins bombed Gary Bell in taking a 7-2 decision.

Harmon Killebrew socked a three-run homer and Bob Allison banged a home run good for two runs as Minnesota raced to a 6-0 lead after three innings.

The only noise Cleveland made against Pascual was in the seventh inning when Kirkland led off with a single and John Romano blasted his 14th homer. One out later, Bubba Phillips doubled, but Pascual (14-5) then barred the door.

Cleveland now has lost five in a row and seven of its last eight. The Indians have lost five in a row once before this season, but followed that by taking six straight.

The Twins put Bell (7-7) into hot water right at the start. Bill Tuttle and Vic Power singled. Killebrew's fly scored Tuttle. Allison then followed with his 10th homer.

Power doubled in the third and Rich Rollins drew a walk. Killebrew sent Bell to the showers with his 22nd home run.

Barry Latman (4-5) faces former Tribe hurler Dick Stigman (3-2) today.

Sabina Pacer Upsets Scioto Downs Favorite

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Abbe Averill A, owned by Clifton Pavey of Sabina, upset pre-race favorite Chico Wilson Tuesday night to win the $1,000 B-3 pace at Scioto Downs by 1 length.

Driven by Loren Coe, the gelding finished in 2:06 4-5 and paid $22. Chico Wilson paid $4.20 and Wildwood Bill was worth $3.40 for show.

Drabowsky's Relief Hurling Helps Redlegs

CINCINNATI (AP) — Moe Drabowsky, struggling to hold his pitching place with the Cincinnati Reds, took the spotlight from two aces Tuesday night.

His tight pitching in relief of Bob Purkey brought the Reds a 7-5 victory over National League-leading Los Angeles and handed strike-out whiz Sandy Koufax his first loss in six decisions.

It was Moe's second victory against five defeats. Knucklebatter Purkey (14-3), left the game after the Dodgers scored twice in the fourth.

The Reds, shut out four times in the last 10 games, finally got their batting to work with authority.

Cincinnati home runs came from Leo Cardenas in the second inning and from Vada Pinson and Hank Foiles in the third.

Wally Post also doubled in two runs for the Reds off Koufax in the first inning. The Reds picked up an insurance marker in the fourth when Pinson singled home Cardenas, who had doubled.

Purkey's stint ended in the fourth after catcher Johnny Roseboro tripled in two runs. Drabowsky gave up a one-run pinch single to Wally Moon before squelching the threat.

The second of three games with the Dodgers comes tonight with Jim O'Toole scheduled to pitch against Don Drysdale.

Jewelers Top Ashville for Third Win

Savings Bank edged VFW, 8-7, for the team's eighth win of the season in the only scheduled Babe Ruth Minor game. L. M. Butch won their third straight third round game, 10-8, over Ashville No. 1, and Lindsey Bakery defeated General Electric, 20-16, in the Babe Ruth Majors.

Charley Hurley led the Savings Bank to its second third round win. He had two hits and scored three runs in two official trips to the plate.

VFW had only two hits, one by Bill Hill and one by Doug Thompson. Savings record now stands at 8-2, and VFW has a 3-7 mark.

L. M. Butch remained the only undefeated team in the third round of the Babe Ruth Majors with the help of some timely hitting by George Ramey and R. Smith. Ramey had three singles and Smith had two.

ROSE, Ashville hurler, socked three singles and J. Daft banged two singles and scored two runs for Ashville. Ashville held a 4-1 lead at the end of the third inning, but the jewelers pulled within one at 4-3 with two run fourth, and went ahead to stay with a three run fifth.

Butch's now owns a 6-7 overall record, 3-0 in the third round, and Ashville has an overall 4-6 mark with an 0-2 third round record.

Lindsey scored in every inning in winning its fourth game of the season. The Bakers held a 12-2 lead going into the last of the fourth, when GE tied up the game with a big 10-run rally.

Tied at 13 all, the Bakers scored three runs in the sixth and four in the seventh to wrap up the contest.

Jim Bowsher had four straight singles and Neil Martin singled three times for the Lindsey nine. George Hill crossed the plate four times.

GE posted eight hits. Bob Purcell had a double and single and Dave Bass had a triple in six trips to the plate. Gary Stewart tallied four of the lampmakers runs.

Lindsey now has chalked a 4-8 mark, 2-1 in the third round, and GE has a 5-7 overall mark, 0-2 in the third round.

Fanok Fans 13 To Beat Jets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harry Fanok may not win the most games in the International League this season, but at the rate he's going no one is going to strike out more enemy batters.

The 22-year-old right-hander has fanned 133 in 112 1-3 innings, even though he shows a mediocre 7-8 record.

Tuesday night Fanok whiffed 13 Columbus batters and added icing to the cake by breaking a 1-1 tie with a two-run single to enable his Atlanta Crackers to defeat the Jets 3-1.

With the count tied 1-1 in the seventh, Fanok came up with mates on second and third. The Jets' Don Rowe fired two quick strikes past him, but Fanok caught the next pitch and sent it into left center for a single, sending home the two runners.

In other action, league leading Jacksonville won a doubleheader from Richmond 3-2 and 4-1; Rochester downed Toronto 3-2 and Syracuse turned back Buffalo 5-1.

Legion Team Bows Out in District Play

Big Initial Inning Allows Portsmouth To Gain 4-3 Win

The Circleville American Legion team bowed out of the district tournament, dropping a closely contested 4-3 game with Portsmouth.

The Portsmouth team had a big first inning, scoring three runs on five hits. They tallied the winning run in the fifth when they exploded with a three hit attack.

Circleville scored all of its runs in the fourth inning. Freddie Moore singled with two out to start the attack. George Reeser was safe on an error. Then Jack Cook, Circleville catcher, poled a long double to score Moore and Reeser.

Randy Richardson singled, scoring Cook. However, Richardson was thrown out at home trying to score from second on Bobby Parker's single.

JACK COOK paced the local team's offense with two singles and a double. He scored one run and was credited with two RBIs.

Circleville had two bases loaded situations in the game that failed to produce runs.

In the second inning, Moore and Reeser walked and Cook singled to load the sacks. Moore tried to score on an attempted squeeze but the bunt was missed. He was thrown out trying to get back to third.

In the final frame the bases were loaded again, but the Roundtowners failed to produce a runscoring hit.

Circleville scored their three runs on seven hits. Gary Ferguson pitched for Circleville. He gave up nine hits, issued one base on balls and whiffed two.

POWELL was the winning pitcher. He was relieved in the top of the sixth inning.

Although no games are presently scheduled, Chet Iery, manager of the local aggregation, plans to play at least two more tilts.

21st Brown Signs Contract for 1962

CLEVELAND (AP) — Johnny Brewer, the 6-foot-3 sophomore end who came from Mississippi and is switching from defense to offense this season, is the 21st member of the Cleveland Browns to sign for the 1962 National Football League campaign.

The Browns' coaching staff is high on the 232-pound Brewer. "He could be a real good one," said coach Paul Brown. "In our system, the slot end is a key blocker so Brewer's size and strength will be a big help to Jim Brown and Ernie Davis."

Arthritis Pattern Varies

"I have never had arthritis but within the last year the joints of my index fingers look a little deformed. Are there any exercises I can do to keep my fingers straight?"

A. Although you may not consider yourself as having arthritis it would be best to have a medical examination. Arthritis follows many patterns and may even advance with little or no accompanying pain. Neglected treatment often accounts for hand defects, although it must be admitted that treatment often fails to arrest or correct finger crookedness.

Drooling

"Q. What causes a 3-year-old to drool? I know this happens in retarded children but this little boy is very bright."

A. You didn't say whether this occurs just during sleep or during waking hours as well. If the child is otherwise "normal" (and it would seem so from your letter), don't make any special fuss over it but you might mention this to your doctor at the next opportunity.

Dispensing prescribed medicine is what we do best . . . do promptly . . . and do at reasonable cost. Trust your health to your doctor — trust his prescriptions to us.

Jewelers Top Ashville for Third Win

Savings Bank edged VFW, 8-7, for the team's eighth win of the season in the only scheduled Babe Ruth Minor game. L. M. Butch won their third straight third round game, 10-8, over Ashville No. 1, and Lindsey Bakery defeated General Electric, 20-16, in the Babe Ruth Majors.

Charley Hurley led the Savings Bank to its second third round win. He had two hits and scored three runs in two official trips to the plate.

VFW had only two hits, one by Bill Hill and one by Doug Thompson. Savings record now stands at 8-2, and VFW has a 3-7 mark.

L. M. Butch remained the only undefeated team in the third round of the Babe Ruth Majors with the help of some timely hitting by George Ramey and R. Smith. Ramey had three singles and Smith had two.

ROSE, Ashville hurler, socked three singles and J. Daft banged two singles and scored two runs for Ashville. Ashville held a 4-1 lead at the end of the third inning, but the Jewelers pulled within one at 4-3 with a two run fourth, and went ahead to stay with a three run fifth.

Hollywood Unions Accused Of Curbing Young Hopefuls

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"How can we start a new wave in American films?" asks a would-be young movie maker. "We can't even start a ripple, because we can't get in the unions."

This is the kind of complaint you hear over and over from young hopefuls, fired with enthusiasm as they emerge from cinema schools at local universities. Their hope and enthusiasm begin to die as they find studio doors locked to them for lack of a union card.

Many work at low-paying non-union jobs on the fringes of the movie business. Many give up in despair and shift to other lines of work.

The loss of this new creative talent worries some in the movie world, among them Otto Preminger. Says he: "Only new blood can keep anything alive. The film industry is in danger of losing its vigor because it is difficult for new talent to get into some unions."

A cause celebre in this matter is a cinematographer named Haskell Wexler who photographed such well-regarded films as "Hoodlum Priest" and "Studs Lonigan." He has been unable to get work in Hollywood because he wasn't a member of the cameramen's local. He belonged to the Chicago local, and both those films were made in the Midwest. He is now reported making a film in Greece.

Business agent Herb Aller of the camera local says that union is divided into three geographical areas and members are not interchanged. He added that Wexler will be admitted to the Hollywood local as an assistant cameraman.

That is the complaint of many of the young film makers on the outside looking in: they can enter unions in some cases but must work in apprentice positions, even though they have proven their talent.

To get into the Directors Guild, it helps to be the son of a director. A new director needs only a job and $2,000 initiation fee, but assistant directors are admitted only a few at a time—one per studio per year. Preference is given to directors' sons.

The case against admittance of new members is offered by these figures from the guild: 200 of the 450 assistant directors are out of work.

A. T. Dennison, business manager of the Electrical Technicians' local says: "In 1943-46 we had 2,800 men working 5 million man-hours a year. Now we have 1,000 men working less than a million man-hours a year. Does anybody wonder why we discourage new members?"

What's being done?

Several leading film makers have proposed labor management conferences to attempt some streamlining of production. So far the unions have shown no willingness to alter the status quo. Whether they will need to depends on whether Hollywood can find some other way to halt the downward spiral of film production.

Cast-Off Pitchers Spark Play in AL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are some red faces in the American League today.

The causes of these embarrassing blushes are Robin Roberts of Baltimore and Ken McBride of Los Angeles, a pair of cast-off pitchers shunned by the rest of the league.

Roberts, former mainstay of the Philadelphia Phillies, was signed and then cut loose by the New York Yankees even before he had pitched a championship game. Only the Orioles were willing to gamble on him. The 35-year-old right-hander long since has rewarded their faith in him. Tuesday night the Orioles received extra dividends on their investment when Robbie pitched a seven-hitter to defeat Kansas City 3-2 for his fifth victory in eight decisions.

McBride was thrown into the grab bag by the White Sox in the American League player pool nearly two years ago and the Angels plucked him for $75,000. A 12-game winner in 1961, the 26-year-old right-hander shut out Detroit 1-0 for his ninth straight victory and tenth of the season. He has lost only three.

The triumph gave the Angels undisputed possession of second place but left them still 3½ games behind the Yankees, who nipped Boston 1-0 for their fifth straight victory. Minnesota dumped Cleveland into third place with a 7-2 success over the Indians and Washington swept a doubleheader from the White Sox 1-0 and 7-5.

San Francisco's Giants narrowed Los Angeles' National League lead to one game, defeating Milwaukee 4-3 while Cincinnati was drubbing the Chicago Cubs 8-6 and Philadelphia downed Houston twice 5-0 and 8-2 to make it 10 straight over the Colts.

Ralph Terry pitched a four-hitter for the Yankees and rookie shortstop Tom Tresh singled home the run in the Yankees' 1-0 triumph over the Red Sox. Gene Conley matched Terry's shutout pitching until the eighth when Hector Lopez and Clete Boyer singled and Tresh came through with his two-out blow.

In another 1-0 decision, Dave Stenhouse of Washington bested Juan Pizarro of the White Sox in the first game of their twin-bill. Rookie Don Lock homered for the only run. Stenhouse pitched a three-hitter for his eighth victory. The Senators, blanked by Early Wynn with three hits through seven innings, erupted for six runs in the eighth for their two-game sweep. Tom Cheney was the winner.

Harmon Killebrew, emerging from a batting slump, drove in four runs, three with his 22nd homer of the season, to lead the Twins to victory. Camilo Pascual went the route, holding the Indians to five hits for his 14th victory.

Palmer Gets Favorite Role In PGA Test

NEWTOWN SQUARE, Pa. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the one big Injun chief on this golf course where every hole has an Indian name, faces 171 little Indians Thursday in the opening round of the 44th PGA championship.

Some could qualify as chiefs in their own right—National Open champion Jack Nicklaus, for example, or defending champion Jerry Barber, Gary Player, Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Jay Hebert or a dozen or so others who could win almost any tournament.

But no one in recent years has dominated professional golf to the extent that Palmer does. He has to be tabbed as favorite every time he starts. So far this year Palmer has won the British Open title—only last week—the Masters and five other U.S. tournaments and lost the U.S. Open title in a playoff to Nicklaus.

An oddity of the pairings sends these two out together for the first two rounds over the 7,045-yard, par 35-35-70 Aronimink course in Philadelphia's "Main Line" suburban area. They also played together in the National Open and in the Western Open. Nicklaus, who had an unhappy year in Scotland while Palmer was registering his latest victory, professes to be delighted.

"If you can play with Palmer and stay even with him or ahead of him, you know you're doing pretty well. He's never far behind," said the blond Ohio youngster.

Photography Was His Sideline

Paul Betz Retains Picture History of Pickaway County

By RICHARD DAVIS
Perhaps one of the most interesting, rare and varied photograph collections in Central Ohio is owned by a native Pickaway Countian and pioneer photographer, Paul Betz, who lives in the big house on the northeast corner of the Stoutsville and Lancaster Pikes, has photographs or negative prints of people, places and things of the Pickaway County area that he made as far back as 1910. He has other relic photos dating back to the turn of the century.

Betz, although he was born April 1, 1895, is no "April fool" in any sense of the word. His early life was quite versatile. . . working in several different professions and finally hitting on a trade that offered a profitable living in addition to being a life-long hobby.

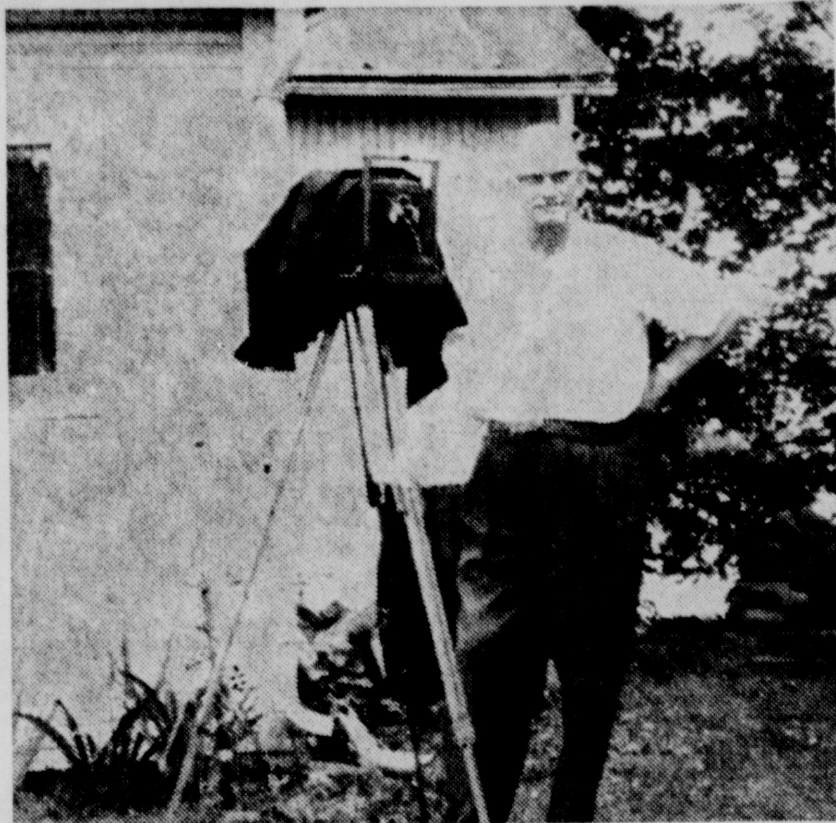

Photography was just a sideline with Betz. Most Pickaway Countians know him as a former rural mail carrier. He worked for the local post office for 33 years, Nov. 1, 1920, until his retirement Nov. 1, 1953.

HE WAS born in Pickaway Twp. on the property now occupied by the Lyman Penns and known then as Liberty Lodge. However, he wasn't destined to be a farmer. When he was five years old the family moved to 951 S. Pickaway St. in Circleville. He received his education in Circleville schools and attended Everett's High School.

He recalls that his interest was aroused in photography just as many teen-agers become interested in the darkroom art today. He purchased a home photo developing kit. . . considerably different from those of today. From that time on, he spent hours upon hours in a darkened room working with the magic art of photography.

Professionally his first job was with the G. A. Teegardin Drug Store, at the present location of Timmon's Shoe Repair Shop on N. Court St.

He later attended an Eastman Kodak photography clinic in Columbus and continued to develop and print pictures for the drug store on a part-time basis.

In about 1916, a darkroom was set up on the third floor of the building that now houses L. M. Butch Jewelers, W. Main St. The Citizens Telephone Co. moved out

Red Cross Slates Two Life Saving Classes at Pool

Two new life saving classes at the Circleville Swim Club pool have been announced by Miss Mary Susa and Miss Sandy Smith, directors of the summer water safety program for the American Red Cross.

A junior life saving class will start 10 a. m. Monday. Participants must be 12 years of age or in the seventh grade.

A class for senior life saving will start 6:30 p. m. Monday. Students of senior life saving must be 16 or high school juniors.

Persons interested may register at the Red Cross office or the swimming pool at the starting time of the classes.

After he and his wife returned to Circleville he took a job with a drug wholesale house in Columbus. Then it wasn't long until he became a rural mail carrier in the Pickaway County area.

Honor Students Listed at OU

Three Pickaway County students were included in the 705 Ohio University students named to the Dean's List for the second semester of the 1961-62 school years.

The three are students are William Boyer, Ashville; Gary L. Agin, Route 4; and Byron D. Fortney, Route 1, Orient.

Freshmen must have at least a 3.0, or B average and upperclassmen a 3.3 average to be named to the list.

The honor list students represent about 8.5 per cent of the 8,237 enrollment during the second semester.

Harral Receives OSU Scholarship

The Alfred P. Sloan Foundation announced today the names of 134 young men selected to receive national scholarships for study this fall at 35 colleges and universities.

Included in the list is William M. Harral, Route 1. He will receive a scholarship to Ohio State University.

Scholarships, renewable annually, range from $200 to $2,000 a year.

Approximately $1 million is spent annually by the foundation on this program. This figure includes both the awards to students and grants-in-aid to the educational institutions, the latter to help in part to make up the difference between the full cost of the student's education and tuition charges.

of the building and Betz continued his photography business there for Teegardin on a commission basis.

The United States entered World War I in 1917 and many Pickaway Countians were drafted, including the pharmacist of the Teegardin Drug Store. This complicated the photography business for Betz because he had to work in the drug store in the absence of the pharmacist.

SHORTLY after he was married to Miss Elva Ross, of Chillicothe, in December 1917, the new bridegroom was drafted. He had earlier been turned down when he tried to enlist because he didn't meet the weight standards.

He was stationed about a year in New York City with the Coast Artillery Corps. He and his wife were there when the armistice was signed Nov. 11, 1918.

Betz recalls the overwhelming crowd at Times Square when the public announcement was made that the war was over.

After he and his wife returned to Circleville he took a job with a drug wholesale house in Columbus. Then it wasn't long until he became a rural mail carrier in the Pickaway County area.

At one time, beginning about 1920, Betz did wholesale photo finishing for the Eastman Kodak Company at his home. He processed film for nearly all of Central Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Mrs. Betz shared her husband's hobby and quite a bit of photo finishing herself while he was on the mail route.

Now retired, the master photographer looks back over the years and marvels at the progress made in picture making. "When I started," Betz said, "a photographer had no equipment and couldn't buy it. He had to make it."

"Today, cameras are sold complete in themselves. All you have to do is snap the shutter, push a couple of buttons and out comes the picture."

DURING his married life Betz and his wife have travelled throughout every state in the Union, nearly every province in Canada and have visited Mexico.

He is very active in the local BPO Elks and IOOF lodges. Along with his wife he has attended conventions and rallies across the nation.

Among his lodge affiliations are past commander of the American Legion and district deputy and grand master of IOOF. He served as district deputy of BPO Elks in 1954-55.

The Betzes are souvenir and keepsake collectors. They have ribbons and medals from conventions across the country in addition to movies taken in nearly every state. Paul even has his first grade report cards from grade school.

Among the other treasures of the Betz family are their three children and six grandchildren. Their children are David Betz, Cuyahoga Falls; Mrs. Lee (Catherine) Berry, 411 E. Mound St.; and Mrs. Betty Pittenger, Indianapolis, Ind.

Starting next week a new feature will be added to The Herald.

Betz has agreed to share his extensive photo collection with the readers of the paper.

Each week one of his old photos will be printed in The Herald along with a brief background of the picture. Some are of school classes throughout the county, others are of a historic nature and some are destined to be familiar only to those who actually lived during the time the pictures were taken.

The series will start next Friday.

Quick Justice Meted Out in Beating Case

POMEROY, Ohio (AP) — Two young men were convicted and sentenced to prison terms Tuesday for the beating and $1,240 robbery of an 80-year-old Meigs County old-age pensioner late Monday night.

Ralph Barcus, 21, of Gallipolis, and Tandy Stewart, 20, of Columbus, pleaded guilty in Meigs County Common Pleas Court of assault against Ira Curt Stout of Langsville, west of here.

When arrested six miles from Langsville about an hour after the robbery, the two men had $1,240 with them, all in 20 dollar bills.

Barcus was sentenced to 1-to-20 years in Ohio Penitentiary while Stewart received a like sentence in Mansfield Reformatory.

Stout told Sheriff Robert Hartenbach he was walking home from a general store when he was attacked outside his kitchen door by the two men. He said they bound him with a handkerchief and necktie, took his money, then ransacked the house in a vain attempt to find more money.

Local MYF Group Attends Retreat At Lancaster

The older youth group of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Chillicothe District held a retreat at the Lancaster Camp Ground Saturday and Sunday.

The group played games of various kinds, and attended a business meeting and a midnight devotional service Saturday.

Sunday morning the entire group attended the drive-in worship service in Circleville.

Attending from Circleville were Beverly and Rodger Southward, Diane Johnson, Valerie Hamilton, Brad Huffines, Don Wolford and Mrs. Roliff Wolford, who is director of older youth work for the Chillicothe District.
